MEMBER OF THE "CUCKOO" GANG IS FOUND MURDERED

Walter Dahm's Body With Bullet Wounds Discovered Propped Against Shed in Rear of 1029 Chouteau.

WOMAN'S POWDER
PUFF IN COAT POCKET

Police Theory Killing Was Over a Woman in Her Presence and Body Was Later Taken to the Alley.

Discovery at 4:05 a. m. today of the body of Walter Dahm, a member of the "Cuckoo" gang of Chicago, with bullet wounds in the left side and right shoulder and propped in a sitting position against a shed in the rear of 1029 Chouteau avenue, has given the police another gang murder to investigate.

Automobile tracks in the alley and the fact that persons living in the neighborhood heard no shots have convinced detectives working on the case that Dahm was killed elsewhere and his body conveyed to the point where it later was found.

Powder Puff in Pocket.

A woman's powder puff was in Dahm's coat pocket, together with a letter from a woman in Wisconsin, and the police are of the opinion that he was in the company of a woman when he was slain and that probably the murder was the outcome of a quarrel in which a woman was involved.

Dahm, who was 21 years old, had served a Workhouse sentence for larceny. Since 1914 he had been rounded up 36 times with various charges of crime. He was connected with police investigation of numerous burglaries and highway robberies.

Shortly before 4 o'clock this morning, a man wearing a dark coat and a hat, who was identified as Dahm, was seen walking into a cafe at Twelfth and Market streets and he had just seen a man lying apparently dead or drunk in the alley in the rear of 1029 Chouteau avenue.

Man Seen Running Away.
Timothy McCarthy of 1605 Knapp street, a reporter for the Globe-Democrat, went to the alley in an automobile and found Dahm. He later informed the police that as he was entering the alley the headlights of his automobile disclosed a man crouching in the alley away from the body. Examination of Dahm's wounds indicated the pistol had been held close to his body as his coat, shirt and underwear were burned at the points where the bullets entered. Dahm had no hat.

The letter found in Dahm's pocket was signed Esther Petrie, West Allis, Wis., and was addressed to "Dear Walter." It was two pages long and expressed regret that Dahm had not gone to church. "I'm glad, though, that you were honest enough to admit it," the letter stated. "Another part of the letter referred to Dahm as 'sweet cookie,' and asked him to invest $2 in German marks for the writer."

Statement of Mother.
Dahm's mother, Mrs. Mary Dahm, with whom he resided at 1821 Montgomery street, told detectives that he left home about 7 o'clock last night, telling her that he was going to visit a telephone operator living in the 7000 block on South Broadway, and to whom he referred to as "Mathilda." Mrs. Dahm said he told her he had no money and that she gave him "a few dollars." He had $23.55 in his pockets when his body was found.

Six members of the "Cuckoo" gang, with whom Dahm had been associated frequently in the last few days, are being sought for questioning. This is the fourth murder in five months which the police have attributed to the "Cuckoo" gang. John Joyce, a member of the gang, was shot and killed in an attempted holdup of a gambling resort in Venice, Ill., March 12. "Big Bill" Reaney, another member of the gang, was shot to death in his saloon at Granite City, April 6, and William Taber, an associate of the gang, was killed and thrown from an automobile in St. Louis County April 12.

New York Crowd Chases Negro.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Police of Richmond Hill last night fought an angry crowd bent on capturing Clifford Chamberlain, 15-year-old negro, charged with having attacked a 17-year-old white girl as she was returning home. Passers-by chased the negro boy for more than half a mile. Policemen held off the crowd and arrested the boy. The girl identified Chamberlain as her assailant.

Judge Pays $1000 for Fishing Boat but Can't Fish From It

New Law Prevents Faria From Using Motor Craft in Pursuing Muskellouge.

Predilection of Congress to pass a great many new laws has resulted in Federal Judge Faria being enjoined from his chief source of fame as a fisherman—the luring of giant muskellouge from the waters of Stone Lake, Wis. And that after the Judge had expended $1000 for a motor boat large enough to haul the catch, on fishing jaunts during his vacation, which he is spending at the Wisconsin Club, near Stone Lake, Judge Faria left July 10 for Stone Lake, to spend a long vacation on the advice of his physician. He arrived a couple of days before July 15, when a new Federal law prohibiting muskellouge fishing from a motor boat went into effect. He sent back word that he caught one "whopper" before July 15, but was not specific as to the poundage.

Lawyer returning from Stone Lake says the Judge is obeying the law to the letter, and on his daily cruises will not permit the tossing out of a line. Nor, they state, does he shut off his motor to create the evasive technicality that he could fish for muskellouge from a "floating boat."

Last year Judge Faria took from the lake what was said to be the largest muskellouge caught in those waters, but is unable to break his record through a situation that, on occasions, has pointed out—the tendency of the Federal Government to assume additional powers.

$78,500 SHORTAGE DISCOVERED

Two Officials of Pennsylvania Bank Held After Confession.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 2.—A shortage of $78,500 in the accounts of the Bethlehem Trust Co., at Bethlehem, has been discovered. Elmer E. Renner, cashier, and Howard Rehig, assistant cashier, who confessed to the shortage, have been arrested. Peter G. Cameron, secretary of the bank, announced today.

The shortage was not detected by the bank as the directors had made good any loss not covered by the men's bonds and by property turned over by them. Cameron said Rehig and Rehig waived a hearing and were placed under bonds of $25,000 each. The money was spent in speculation, Cameron said. Securities amounting to about $11,000 have been recovered and the two officials have turned real estate and personal property valued at $14,000 over to the bank. The money was taken from the cash account, and the shortage was covered up by charging the amounts taken to inactive savings accounts, according to information at the banking department.

WHY IS GASOLINE
SO HIGH WHEN OIL IS SO LOW?

Texas Governor Orders Inquiry to Find Answer—Hopes U. S. Aid Will Extend It to Other States.

CITES 500,000-BARREL
CRUDE SURPLUS DAILY

$1 a Gallon Price of Lubricating Oil Compared With $2.50 Paid for Barrel of Crude to Producers.

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 2.—Gov. Neff yesterday took a hand in the effort to end combinations in fixing prices of oil and gasoline, with the announcement that he had begun an investigation into complaints that have come to the State Railroad Commission and other State officials.

It was stated that the Governor had taken up the matter with United States oil and gas officials, and that the investigation probably would extend into other states in an effort to obtain information regarding reported price fixing.

"During the week," the Governor disclosed in an authorized statement, "I have had conferences with representatives from the Attorney-General's Department and from the offices of the oil and gas division of the Government, in an effort to find out why the price of gasoline remains exceedingly high, while the price of crude oil continues to drop each day lower and lower. The problem seems a difficult one."

"On investigation, I find that the daily production of crude oil is approximately 2,500,000 barrels a day. In other words, we are producing 500,000 barrels of oil each day beyond what is used or shipped out to other countries."

"Crude oil producers are building large earthen storage tanks to care for the oil they cannot sell. The pipeline companies are not able to accept for storage more than 50 per cent of the oil offered to them from owners of overflowing storage tanks."

"Now, the strange thing is that in the face of this overwhelming supply of crude oil, gasoline continues to sell at a high price. In Austin today it is retailing at 19 cents per gallon. Lubricating oil is selling for not less than 40 cents a gallon, although the producers can get only $2.50 per barrel for it."

No Benefit From Big Supply.
"It can certainly be said that someone somewhere has blundered, for the consumers of gasoline are getting no benefit of the big supply of crude oil. I have had conferences during the last few days with the representatives of several departments of the Government, as well as with others, in an effort to ascertain what, if anything, can be done to remove the high price of gasoline. The low price of crude oil, to the end that the citizens of Texas may get the benefits of the vast amounts of crude oil being taken out of our soil."

"I am very much in hopes that some aggressive step can be taken by the proper authorities, either to the effect of removing the price of gasoline, notwithstanding the price of oil more than we are consuming or exporting."

Only Two Oklahoma Oil Refineries Are Closed.

OKLAHOMA, Aug. 2.—Only two oil refineries in Oklahoma have suspended operations as a result of the unofficial agreement reached by Midcontinent refiners in Chicago, July 27, for a voluntary shutdown, it was revealed last night.

Fires in the big Coaden & Co. plant here were drawn early this morning. The Marland Refining Co. plant at Ponca City has been closed since Thursday afternoon.

The Producers & Refiners' Corporation, with refineries at West Tulsa and Blackwell, through Assistant Sales Manager McDowell, announced that fuel oil contracts it had received would cause it to run its two plants at full capacity. Several other refineries intend to continue operations.

"GERMANY ROTTING TO RUIN,
ALL CHANCE OF REPARATIONS BEING WHITTLED AWAY"

Lord Curzon, British Foreign Secretary, Does Some Plain Talking in House of Lords on the Ruhr Situation.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Goaded by criticisms, Lord Curzon did some plain talking in the Lords this afternoon, quite different from the calm phrases of his prepared formal address delivered this morning.

The Foreign Secretary said that instead of seeing reparations coming out of the Ruhr, the British Government saw all chance of any reparations being whittled away before "our very eyes." He remarked that other people besides the French and Belgians had some reparations coming to them and therefore could not stand to one side and let France and Belgium carry out whatever policy they might desire.

"I speak not merely of our right to interfere and that right to interfere rests not only upon our share of reparations," asserted Lord Curzon, "but also upon the rights which we possess in respect to the payment of interallied debts which is a matter of supreme importance and which cannot be set on one side as it did not exist."

"We see Germany rotting to ruin, lapping into irreparable decay, carrying with it all prospects of economic recovery, not merely for Germany but for Europe."

"When we looked at our own position at home we saw that what was passing in the Ruhr was telling upon almost every industry in this country. And after a few brief weeks of activity due to the purchases of coal

MAC NEIL TO DO FRIEZE ON CAPITOL BUILDING

Noted New York Sculptor Gets $50,000 Contract for Exterior Decoration.

A contract for the frieze on the river front of the Capitol Building at Jefferson City has been awarded to Jefferson City. The price, announced today by Arthur A. MacNeil, secretary of the Capitol Decorations Commission, is $50,000.

This is the last major decorative work to be contracted. It will be 140 feet long and 6 feet 6 inches high, and will extend around the base projection on the river front. Definite assignment of subject has not been made to MacNeil, but he probably will be asked to portray the progress of civilization.

The subject of the frieze now being carved over the Capitol entrance, which also is 140 feet long, is "The History of Missouri."

MacNeil, a native of Massachusetts and a former president of the American Society of Sculptors, has won medals in virtually every exposition in the world in the last 20 years. His Indian group at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis won the gold medal. MacNeil has specialized in portraying the American aborigines and has pieces in nearly all the leading American museums, including two in the Metropolitan at New York. He is now in the United States memorial at Columbus, O.

He was elected at the suggestion of the other sculptors assigned to work on the building and upon their statement that no painter in America was better fitted by temperament and talent to do the frieze.

The Capitol Decorations Commission believes that it has obtained the services of the leading sculptors of America, so that the building in the future will present not only notable art, but works representative of the period in American art during which it was brought to completion. Other sculptors under contract are A. Stirling Calder for the entrance frieze, Adolph A. Weinman for the entrance pediment, Robert Aiken for the groups portraying the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, at the left and right of the entrance, and Sherry Fry for the heroic figure to be placed atop the dome.

It will require at least two years to complete the sculpture. The commission has contracted for more than $550,000 for the building, including mural and historic paintings, tapestries, stained glass windows and sculpture. It still had approximately $150,000 in its fund.

FRENCH REPLY
HOLDS NO HOPE OF RUHR PEACE,
BALDWIN SAYS

Premier Baldwin, Addressing Commons, Asserts Paris and Brussels Answers to British Note Fail to Offer Prospect of Discussion Regarding Reparations.

DRAFT OF ALLIED NOTE TO BERLIN IGNORED

Parliament Is Told Allies Have Been Asked to Agree to Publication of Communications in an Effort to Obtain United Action.

Great Britain

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Prime Minister Baldwin joined with Lord Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, in informing Parliament today that the replies by France and Belgium to the British reparations note seemed to hold out no prospect of a settlement of the Ruhr situation in the near future or the opening of a discussion regarding reparations.

Great Britain had submitted to the other allies the draft of a joint allied reply to the last German reparations communication and Great Britain had attached very great importance to the dispatch of such a reply, the Premier said. Neither said, however, the allies were agreed to the dispatch of a joint allied reply to Germany.

Realizing the danger of the European situation sinking into irretrievable ruin during prolonged negotiations among the allies, the British Government, holding that the problem cannot be evaded, the statement said, has invited the allies to agree to the publication of their communications, together with those prepared by Great Britain, may convince the world of the necessity of prompt and united action.

The Prime Minister, in the House of Commons, and Lord Curzon, in the House of Lords, began by reading identical addresses by reciting the history of the recent negotiations. They then broke new ground in this manner:

"The Government drew up a draft reply which they forwarded on July 26, with a covering note to the allied governments."

"In this draft, the British Government dealt with the various proposals contained in the German memorandum and they expressed the opinion that, while nothing should be done which was inconsistent with the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles, advantage would be derived by an examination by impartial experts, in co-operation with the Reparations Commission, into Germany's capacity to pay."

"As regards the guarantee offered by the German Government, the British went on to point out in the draft reply that the economic value of any such guarantee must largely depend on factors of which the German Government, in its memorandum had made no mention, such as stabilizing the mark and balancing the German budget, and that no guarantee could be effective unless provision were made for some form of international control over the German financial administration."

"The reply ended," continued the Prime Minister, "by advising the German Government that if it desired a resumption of the inquiry, to withdraw without further delay the ordinances and decrees which organized and fomented the policy of passive resistance, and unequivocally to disavow the acts of violence and sabotage which in some cases had accompanied it."

Interrelated Parley Proposed.
"The reply expressed the belief that such action on the part of Germany would involve reconsideration by the occupying Powers of the conditions of their occupation and the gradual return to the normal features of life in the Ruhr."

"In the covering note with which this draft reply was sent to the Allied Governments, the British Government gave a fuller explanation of the views which they held on 'how the world is managed today.' His subject was 'Force.'"

"LAW—NOT WAR" ILLOGICAL

Rear Admiral Rodgers Says War Is Merely Law Enforcement.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 2.—The "Law-not-war" movement was criticized by Rear Admiral William L. Rodgers, chairman of the General Board of the United States Navy, in an institute of politics addressed this afternoon.

"That text," he declared, "is unsound, for war itself is an integral part of law. War is agency whereby law is made to prevail when it is disputed by evil doers, be they individuals or nations."

Admiral Rodgers was one of the speakers at the opening conference on "how the world is managed today." His subject was "Force."

SEEK STATEMENT ON NIGHT AND DAY BANK LIQUIDATION

Committee Representing Depositors Formulates List of Questions for Commissioner Millsbaugh.

PROSPECTS FOR DIVIDEND SOUGHT

Status of Audit of the D. W. Ross Shortage Together With Publicity of the Facts Demanded.

Budgeted with inquiries from depositors in the defunct Night and Day Bank on delays in liquidation of the bank, which was closed by state examiners on Jan. 6, 1922, a committee representing the Night and Day Depositors' Organization met today and directed a letter to State Finance Commissioner Millsbaugh, setting forth 13 questions, with a request for information.

"We want to do everything we can to help you in your work to liquidate the affairs of the bank," the letter to Commissioner Millsbaugh stated, "but we have reached the point where we believe that drastic action of some kind is necessary, and there may be more serious complications."

Some of the questions asked. The letter states the depositors want some information on the total alleged shortage in the accounts of Donald W. Ross, former Special Deputy Finance Commissioner in charge of liquidation, who is under indictment on a charge of embezzlement from the bank's funds; how much money has been collected in the liquidation, cost of the liquidation thus far, when a dividend will be paid, what it will amount to, and what steps are being taken to collect on obligations and realize on the bonds of Ross and bank officials.

In addressing the letter to Commissioner Millsbaugh, the committee stated: "When we saw you about three months ago you urged us to be patient. You said you were working on the affairs of the bank and would keep us advised of the situation."

Some Very Impatient. "We have been as patient as possible but there are hundreds of the depositors of the bank who are very impatient, and frankly, we do not blame them, even though your department may be entirely faultless in its work to wind up the affairs of the bank as expeditiously as possible."

Referring to the numerous inquiries to the committee, and its inability to answer them, from lack of information, the letter stated: "The committee is very anxious to answer them, but we are as soon as possible in writing."

Ross Audit Still Under Way. "Formal has been halted. It was said, since announcement last April of the discovery of alleged discrepancies in the accounts of Ross, Audit of Ross' accounts has been in progress since early this year, and Finance Commissioner Millsbaugh has stated he does not know when the report on the audit will be completed."

Protests by depositors over failure to pay a further dividend, which they expected last January, are said to have led to investigation and discovery of Ross' alleged discrepancies. At that time the shortage was approximately $70,000 and it has since been stated this figure might reach $1,500,000.

Depositors thus far have been paid 10 percent of their deposits in the liquidation of the bank, which involved a total of $1,000,000. The first estimate of recovery to depositors was placed at 80 percent, but depositors now express the belief it will not exceed 70 percent. There are approximately 15,000 depositors, who had deposits totaling $2,585,000.

Answers to Queries Indefinite. Offices for the liquidation work have been maintained in the United Home Building, and depositors calling there have been told that money is being collected on obligations, but no date could be set at this time for the next dividend.

Some doubt has been expressed by officers of the Finance Department that the report on the Ross audit would be made public, but members of the special committee of depositors have indicated they will insist on its publication.

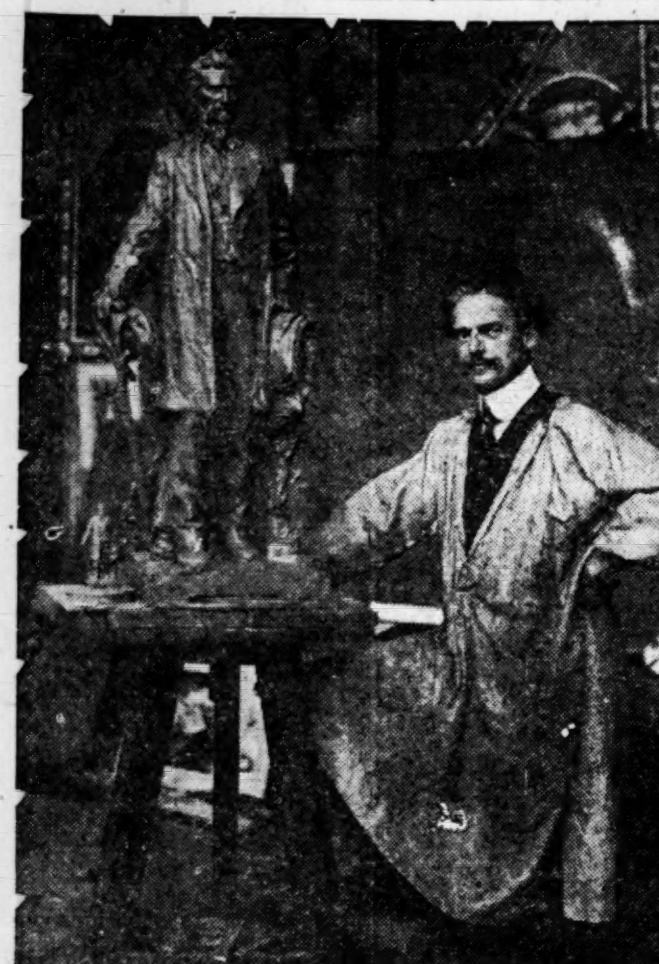

"We see no reason why anything pertaining to the affairs of the bank should be kept secret," the letter stated, "regardless of situations or consequences. Furthermore, we believe that regardless of the individual who should be made to pay what they owe the bank, even resorting to foreclosure or other legal action necessary to get collection."

Again declaring early action was necessary, the letter continued: "Sulzberger has been committed as a result of the failure of the bank, and people are even now in want on account of loss of their money through the failure of the institution."

The Depositors' Committee does not want the payment of dividends to wait until through prosecution of those guilty of the shortage."

Members of this committee are William J. Combs, chairman; Clem organization, and Frank Herbers, secretary of the organization.

Nature of Information Sought. Questions directed to Commissioner Millsbaugh by the committee were:

When will the audit be completed? Will it be made public, and if not, why?

What shortage is now revealed as a result of the investigation thus far by the State Department of Finance?

What steps are being taken to collect on the bond of Cashier Meininger, since conviction of the latter last May on a charge of embezzlement. (A shortage of $750,000 was alleged to have existed in Meininger's accounts. He has appealed from his conviction and sentence of five years in the penitentiary.)

Cost One of Inquiries. How much has been spent thus far on liquidation and what is the total financial expense of the office in which it is handled?

How much money has been collected thus far, and how much paper is in the hands of attorneys for collection?

What is the estimated time necessary for the liquidation?

When will the next dividend be paid, and what is the estimate on the size of that dividend?

Low about the indebtedness of Meyer Katz to the bank, and what steps have been taken, or will be taken, to get full collection?

What steps are being taken to collect the $50,000 bond of Ross?

Members of the committee already have inquired of the State Department of Finance as to what will be the attitude of the State toward repayment of depositors for losses resulting when liquidation was in progress under State control.

Status of Ross Case. Ross is under $25,000 bond on indictment charging him with embezzlement of $28,250 of Night and Day liquidation funds. As has been told, he is alleged to have used this money to purchase control and elevate himself to the presidency of the West Side State Bank of Kansas City, last November. This bank later was closed.

Circuit Attorney Siderer last week abandoned his plan to hold the June term grand jury in session to consider additional matters disclosed in the audit of Ross' accounts, when informed completion of the audit probably would be delayed several weeks.

BURGARS BREAK OPEN SAFE BUT CASH IS HIDDEN ELSEWHERE

Lack of faith in the strength of an iron safe in his office, 1918 Railway Exchange Building, last night saved $150 for J. H. Baldwin, an insurance agent. Burglars broke open the safe, took $4.20 in small change and $2 in stamps, but failed to find the $15,000 concealed elsewhere in the office. Baldwin said he hid the money, instead of placing it in the safe, as he had heard of several recent attempts to rob offices in the building.

The burglars knocked a handle off the safe, an old-fashioned type with a key lock, and picked the lock. Several desks were rifled in a search for valuables.

WOMAN FELL BY BURGLAR

Mrs. Lillian Schneider of 1509 North Fifteenth street, was injured internally today when knocked down and kicked by a burglar who surprised her home at 2:30 a. m. The intruder escaped, tossing aside a purse containing $12 which he had taken from a bedroom.

Mrs. Schneider said she was awakened by the man opening compartments in a chiffonier. As she jumped out of bed the burglar grappled with her while she attempted to wrest her purse from him. In the struggle, she was kicked and knocked down. The burglar ran, threw the purse on the kitchen floor and went out through a screen door which he had unlocked to get into the house.

2 FIREMEN, SPRINKLING WAGON DRIVER HURT

Fire Truck Answering Alarm Strikes and Overturns the Street Sprinkler.

Two firemen and the driver of a sprinkling wagon were seriously injured at 2:50 p. m. yesterday when a fire truck of Engine Company No. 17, answering an alarm at Leffingwell and Franklin avenues, struck and overturned the sprinkler in front of 2824 Easton avenue.

Edward Garigan, 31 years old, a pupeman, of 1811A Laffin street, suffered internal injuries, and James Hogan, 25, pipeman, of 2518 North Spring avenue, a fractured right leg. When they were thrown from the fire truck, Jesse James, 22, a negro, of 4012 Papin street, driver of the sprinkling wagon, was hurt internally.

Both truck and wagon were going east on Easton avenue. James was ordered arrested when the fireman complained that he had been drawn over to the curb at the approach of the truck, the bell of which was declared to have been ringing constantly.

Several Other Persons Injured in Motor Vehicle Accidents.

When Milton Overturf, 9 years old, of 5264 Janet avenue, St. Louis County, ran into the street for a ball which he was playing with companions, he was knocked down at Helen and Melrose avenues by an automobile driven by Thomas Kinney Jr., 17, of 6420 Wellman avenue. The child suffered internal injuries, a fracture of the right arm and a probable fracture of the skull. His condition is critical.

The right legs of both Antonio Sansone, 31, of 1223 North Sixth street, and Mrs. Pearl Dyer, 32, of 1615 Chouteau avenue, were fractured at 10:40 p. m. when an automobile in which they were riding struck a lamp post in front of 5609 Riverview drive. Sansone said his steering wheel locked when blinding lights from approaching machines caused him to attempt to swerve.

One of the bones in the right leg of Otis Riley, 16, of 305 Carroll street, was fractured when he and his bicycle in a collision with a automobile, after riding into Louisiana avenue from an alley near Keokuk street.

Percy Douglas, 19, a negro, of Prospect Hill, Mo., was cut about the head in a collision between his bicycle and an automobile in front of 1883 North Broadway.

Herbert Goldbach, 25, of 3927 Connecticut street, and Sylvester Steed of 4514 Oakland avenue were cut and bruised about the legs—Goldbach when he was knocked down in front of 2119 Chouteau avenue by Steed's truck, and Steed, when he fell in running from the scene because he thought Goldbach intended to attack him.

A few days ago in Maxims', a French Deputy was contemptuously addressed as "nigger." Then came the decision to issue the warning. Without naming any nationality, the French authorities let it be known that any citizen of the world who tries to draw the color line in Paris will at once be invited to return to America.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2. — Officials of the United States Steel Corporation renewed today the discussion started last week on plans to eliminate the 12-hour day in the manufacturing subsidiaries of the corporation. Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the corporation, stated he was hopeful the conferences might be completed today or tomorrow.

It was understood that several of the officials had obtained concrete expression from the employees whose hours and wages will be affected by the proposed change.

LOUIS BUEHLER DIES; WAS 100 YEARS OLD

Centenarian, Lover of Flowers, Gave Regular Eating as Secret to Longevity.

Louis Buehler, 100 years old, died today at his home, 1811 Dolman street, of the infirmities of age, after an illness of three weeks.

He was born in Alsace, and came to this country in 1843, first settling at St. Genevieve, Mo. Later he followed the trade of a machinist, and operated a farm at Matthee Creek, Carondelet Township, St. Louis County. He was married twice, and five children of the first marriage died. He left no relatives, so far as is known.

He was known as a lover of flowers, and spent much time in his garden. He also made it a point always to insist on regularity of meals, and once told friends, who discussed longevity, that the secret of long life was regularity in eating and simplicity of fare, combined with care in cooking.

His next birthday would have been Dec. 27.

The funeral will be at 8 a. m. Saturday at St. Peter and Paul's Church and burial in St. Peter and Paul's Cemetery.

DIVORCE SUIT IS OPPOSED

Mrs. Browning, Back From Paris, Consults Her Lawyer.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. NEW YORK, Aug. 2. — Soon after her return to New York yesterday from Paris on the Majestic, Mrs. Nellie Adele Browning, planned with her attorney, Frank E. Stripes, to intend herself against the divorce action brought by Edward West Browning, millionaire real estate owner.

Mrs. Browning and the Browning home in West Eighty-first street five weeks ago. Browning alleged she sailed aboard the Olympic June 30, to Europe. On the same ship was Dr. C. S. Winn, a dentist, who is named as co-respondent in the action.

Through his attorneys, Browning filed papers in the suit for divorce in the Supreme Court several weeks ago.

ALLEGES BREACH OF PROMISE

Former Oklahoma Congressman Asks $50,000 From Stenographer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. — Manuel Herrick, former representative in Congress from Oklahoma, renewed his request in court today for $50,000 damages from Miss Ethlyn Crane, his former stenographer, for breach of promise to marry him. He denied charges made by the young woman in her reply to his suit, including one that he proposed a secret marriage in order that he might collect money from newspapers which afterwards commented on their relations.

2 AUTOMOBILE MEN ARRESTED

Employees Say They Were Paid With Wordless Checks.

Arthur Rode, 32 years old, who gave his address at 2624 North Twenty-first street, and Oliver F. Menke, 38, of 6803 Bradley avenue, who, the police say, conducted the Rode Motor Co. at 1700-1702 O'Fallon street, were arrested yesterday on the complaint of employees that they had received worthless checks in payment for services.

The two men made no statement, and gave bond, pending action by the Circuit Attorney's office.

CENTENARIAN WHO IS DEAD

PROGRESSIVE HOLDUP IN DAIRY WAGON YARD

Driver Calls Police After 3 Others Have Been Robbed—Help Arrives Too Late.

Three drivers of the Pevely Dairy Co. were victims of progressive holdups by two robbers in the wagon yard in rear of the company's plant, Grand boulevard and Chouteau avenue, between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning. As the drivers emerged from the offices to go to the stables to get their horses, they were stopped, relieved of their money and told to go to the stables and stay there.

Guy W. Stangler of 4439 Delmar boulevard gave the robbers $24, Les Chittwood of 3321 Park avenue contributed $26 and a watch. Then Charles Francis of 2951 Washington avenue yielded $8.

George McDonald of 1833 Franklin avenue followed Francis as closely that the robbers had not had time to send Francis on to the stables. McDonald witnessed the robbery of Francis, ran back into the office and telephoned for the police. By the time policemen arrived the robbers had disappeared.

OFFICERS OF BANK CONVICTED

Manager of Institution in Paris Given 6 Months Sentence.

PARIS, Aug. 2. — Verdicts of guilty were returned today against the president and directors of the Banque Industrielle De Chine who have been on trial since May 31 on charges of violating the banking laws.

Andre Berthelot, president of the bank, who is a brother of Philippe J. L. Berthelot, former political director of the foreign office, was fined 3000 francs and Jules Poincaré, manager of the bank, was sentenced to six months in prison and fined 3000 francs. Other directors were fined 300 francs each.

Hits Brother-in-Law by Mistake.

When Homer Golladay, 56 years old, a bridegroom of two weeks, returned yesterday to his home at 1036A North Vandeventer avenue, he discovered his wife, Theresa, 19, in close conversation with a man he supposed was an insurance agent who previously had tried to force his attentions upon her. Golladay at once got into action with both fists, only to learn that the man was his brother-in-law, William Gott, 23, of 4115 Blaine avenue, whom he barely knew. The men were arrested and later released on $200 bond.

PROTEST MEETING ON PLAN FOR INCINERATOR

Property Owners to Discuss Proposed Garbage Plant at King's Highway at De Tonty.Steps to be taken in an effort to prevent erection of a city garbage incinerator at King's highway and DeTonty street will be discussed tonight at a protest meeting to be held at the Bryan-Mullanphy School, 4221 Shaw avenue, under the auspices of the Southwestern Property Owners' Protective Association.The meeting was called after residents of that section were told by Director of Streets and Sewers Erik Tuesday that the city intended going ahead with erection of the incinerator.
The plant was planned a year ago, to be one of four to be placed in various parts of the city. Action on three were delayed until an incinerator could be built at the foot of Chouteau avenue to test the plan, which called for odorless incinerators.Members of the Property Owners' Association assert that, while the city has not notified them of the success or failure of the Chouteau plant, as promised, they have learned from other sources that it is by no means odorless. Director Erik declares, however, that many persons have visited the incinerator in the six months it had been in operation, and "none of them could smell it."Chief among the objections of the southwestern residents are the contentions that King's highway, one of the principal boulevards of the city, should not be the site of a garbage incinerator; that the passage of garbage wagons would be obnoxious to patients at the many hospitals in that section; that the business around Grand boulevard and Arsenal street would be seriously affected and that many homes built there recently would decline in value 10 to 20 per cent."This is going to be a fight to a finish," E. J. Wallace of the E. J.
Wallace Coal Co., who is to preside at tonight's meeting, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "We won't submit tamely to having this plant shoved over on us.""The city has not kept its promise to us to have covered wagons collect the garbage. The wagons now are one-third overloaded and the poor conditions of some of the streets in the southwestern part of the city result in much of these noisome loads being spilled over these thoroughfares."Director Erik said today that motorized equipment, including covered trailers, was soon to be purchased by the city and would be here before October, when he estimates the work will begin on the plant. Contracts for the incinerator are to be let August 28.City officials regard the plan to have garbage reduction plants in various parts of the city, rather than one main plant, as an excellent one.
They say each section would thus dispose of its own garbage, and that the hauls by the garbage wagons would be much shorter. The contention that hospital patients would be annoyed by the passing of the wagons, they assert, is unfounded, as the wagons have passed the hospitals for years and there was no complaint until it was decided to build the plant at King's highway and DeTonty street.

ASSERTS AGITATORS THREATEN RAIL CREDIT

Missouri Pacific Head Says Dem agogues Aim at Confiscation of Railroads.

By the Associated Press.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 2.— Charges that credit facilities of the nation's railways are being threatened by "agitators and demagogues who are filling our press with unsupported statements to the effect that the railways have been overvalued," were made by L. W. Baldwin, president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, at a banquet last night, arranged in his honor by the Southern Hardwood Traffic Association.

Baldwin asserted "certain demagogues and politicians—professed advocates of government-ownership and operation," who, he declared, were endeavoring to have the valuation of the railways, "for confiscation purposes," fixed at least 30 percent less than the actual value of the properties.

"It is my candid opinion," he asserted, "that should these men be successful in their nefarious purpose, every railroad in the country would be forced into bankruptcy. And I believe this is one of the things these men are aiming at."

Fair Valuation Important.
Baldwin urged the importance of a fair valuation of the physical properties of the railways in connection with rate-fixing and in establishing credit facilities. He called attention to the tentative valuation fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1920, at $18,900,000,- 000, which figure, he said, was arrived at after nine years of study in which the railroads co-operated, and asserted that since that time the valuation had been raised to approximately $20,000,000,000, or about two billion in excess of the capitalization and bonded indebtedness of the Class 1 railroads.

Replacement values would raise the figure by many billions, he said.
Baldwin charged that "certain demagogues and politicians" are seeking to have the valuation findings of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the railroad revenues reduced to a point below which the road could not be maintained and operated efficiently, which would "give an excuse on which to base the plan of confiscation."

Defends Transportation Act.
If these politicians succeed in capitalizing the unrest that is abroad in the land today and eventually are enabled to take the railways from their legitimate owners, they will have at hand the greatest potential political machine the world has ever known," he declared.

"These men will entrench themselves in public offices with a political machine that will make our postoffice system look puny in comparison. Then, regardless of their professed convictions, it will be only natural for them to reach out like an octopus and gather in coal and lumber and other basic industries."

He urged that business men interest themselves in opposing any move for the repeal or modification of the Federal Transportation Act, which, he declared, "gives much promise of eventually affording a permanent solution of the so-called transportation problem."

Baldwin said that service was the real key to the railroad situation and that "business men and shippers would serve a better purpose to always talk and work for an adequate rate, rather than a cheaper rate."

Referring to the recent election in Minnesota, Baldwin said: "I cannot conceive how a man with little or no training can be expected to grasp and master the large problems before Congress today."

"The business of Government and legislation is the only big business in the world that is entrusted to inexperienced and incompetent hands," he declared.

Lincoln Cord Tires

Full cord size, sturdy Tires of scientific balanced construction. There is no skimping of material or workmanship. The object has always been to build the best Tire possible. Particular attention is directed to the 30x3½ Cord—it is unusual. All Lincolns are cured by the air-bag process; are constructed with locked-in beads; doubly wrapped, part of the wrapping extending up between the cord layers of the side wall, thus not only firmly anchoring or locking in the bead, but also reinforcing and stiffening the side wall.

Tests of Automatic Control for Trains Watched With Interest

New Plan, Being Given Try-Out in Pennsylvania, Aims at Absolute Prevention of Collisions from Any Cause.

St. Louis railroad officials are watching with interest the tests in automatic control of trains, now being made on the Lewistown branch of the Pennsylvania system, between Lewistown Junction and Sunbury, Pa.

The new plan aims at absolute prevention of train collisions from any cause, whether the carelessness of individuals or the failure of signal apparatus, and whether on a single-track or one with more tracks.

For this purpose, electric, pneumatic and mechanical devices are applied to the track and to the locomotive. These devices automatically slow down, or when required bring to a complete stop, any train which approaches too near to another on the same track, whether going in the same or opposite direction. They have the same effect in cases where switches are improperly left open.

Protective Track Sections. Protective track sections of any length, suited to local operating conditions, may be established. In the case of the Lewistown branch the sections average about one mile in length.

The first step in establishing the system was to equip the track so as to enable it to carry an alternating current. The appliance and devices for these purposes are practically the same as those used in the existing visual block signal system.

Every engine is equipped with electrical apparatus which, without actually touching the rail, picks up the current from the track by induction. This current, after being "stepped up" to a sufficient power, performs two functions—one is to operate the cab signals, which are three in number. The other is to operate the air brakes if another train is approached too closely or proper rates of speed are exceeded.

or in the event of an open switch. These functions are performed without any action being required on the part of the engineer or fireman.

Engine Cab Signals. Inside the engineer's cab are his signals, three electric bulbs which keep him constantly informed of the conditions ahead. One of these bulbs is marked "A." When it is lighted the engineer knows that he has a clear track for at least two full sections ahead. He is then free to run his train at any speed up to the maximum allowed for his division. He cannot exceed this maximum speed, however, because if he attempts to do so the air brakes will be automatically applied. Hence the maximum speed rule cannot be broken even if an engineer should attempt to do so.

The next light is marked "R." When it burns the engineer knows that he has one clear section ahead, but that there is another train on open switch somewhere in the second section ahead. This light is the signal for medium speed, and while it burns, the automatic mechanism holds down the velocity of the train to whatever limit is fixed as "medium speed" on the division in question. For instance 30 miles per hour. This speed the engineer cannot exceed, even should he so attempt, as the brakes will be applied.

The third bulb is marked by the letter "S," and is a "slow" or "stop" signal, as conditions require. The indication from this signal is given at a point about 1800 feet before the train reaches a section occupied by another train or having an open switch. If this light burns, and the engineer takes no action, the train control devices will apply the air-brakes and bring the train to a complete stop. If, however, the engineer "acknowledges" the signal by throwing a lever provided for that purpose, he can proceed at "slow speed" with his train under perfect control. "The limit of 'slow speed,' as in the case of 'high' and 'medium,' is fixed at different rates for different divisions, but when the 'slow' signal burns, the slow speed (Continued on Next Page.)

ANOTHER NEW DIABETES REMEDY REPORTED

Substance Known as Intarvin, or 'Immediate Fat' Developed at Columbia University.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Artificial fat is the newest remedy for diabetes, it was announced today by physicians at Beth Israel Hospital. Dr. Max Kahn, associate in biological chemistry at the Medical School of Columbia University, is the discoverer.

The substance, known as intarvin, or "immediate fat," developed in the Columbia laboratories by Prof. Ralph P. McKee, has, Dr. Kahn reported, been used successfully in the cases of more than two dozen men and women in New York and Boston.

Intarvin is declared to be the first true oleomargarine the world has ever seen. It is made from margarine acid. Oleomargarine is made from cottonseed oil and tallow.

"Though diabetes has been known for more than five centuries," said Dr. Kahn, "it is surprising that the only remedies which give promise of success—insulin and intarvin—were both discovered within a single year."

Intarvin, he said, is of a white creamy color, odorless and tasteless, melting at body temperature, and neutral in reaction. It does not cause nausea, and seems to satisfy the hungry craving for fat that diabetics have.

The fat is now being tried by hospitals and physicians in New York, Massachusetts, California, Kansas and Iowa.

TEST OF AUTOMATIC CONTROL FOR TRAINS WATCHED WITH INTEREST

determined for that particular division cannot be exceeded.

Outstanding Advantages.

The outstanding advantages of automatic train control system are:

1. It keeps the engineer in continuous touch with conditions ahead as he carries the signals with him in the engine cab. With visual signals on the right of way, the engineer is in touch with conditions ahead only when passing the signals, which may be one to five miles apart.

2. It "plays safe" in the event of nonfailure and brings the train safely to a stop, even should the engineer completely fail to do his part. In the event of sickness, injury or death of the engineer, it brings the train safely to a stop.

In addition, it is hoped that, under automatic control, it will be found possible to operate over a given stretch of track without danger or interference, more trains than can be handled with the existing forms of dispatching or signaling. This, however, remains to be demonstrated.

A final provision for insuring safety lies in the fact that should the train control system itself become deranged, as through the failure of the track circuit, the effect will be to bring to an immediate stop all trains on the portion of the track involved.

Test Conditions.

The Lewistown Branch, on which the tests are being made, is 59 miles long and single-track. Twelve locomotives are used on the branch. The automatic train control on this branch is supplemented by visual signals at intervals of five miles. The purpose of these signals is not so much to guard against collision as it is to keep opposing trains from going past points at which sidings exist for passing purposes; also to provide means for delivering orders in case of necessity.

To complete the experiment, these supplemental visual signals on one half of the branch are designed to operate automatically in connection with the train control system. The signals on the other half are also operated automatically, but in addition are under the dispatcher's control.

The demonstration, which has been in progress since July 11, followed a year's preliminary tests of the locomotive apparatus. Both freight and passenger trains on the branch are now subject to automatic control.

WOULD EXAMINE JURY RECORD

Anderson's Lawyer Declares Charges Are "Absurd and Ridiculous."

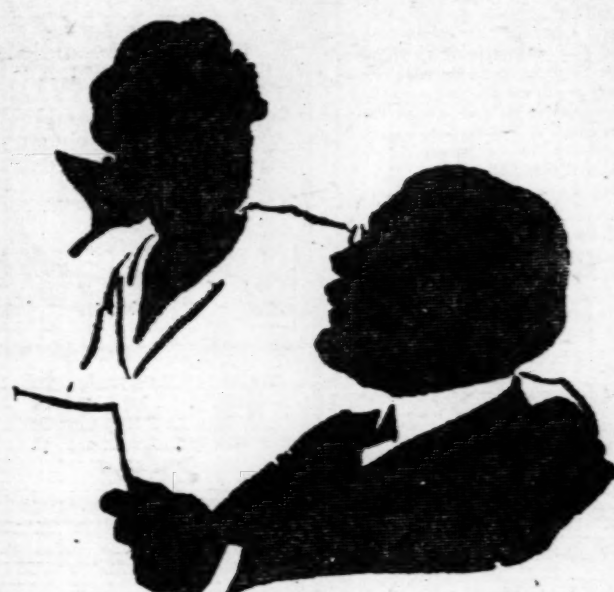

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Judge Mc-

Intyre of General Sessions, yesterday reserved decision on a motion by William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, for permission to inspect the minutes of the grand jury which recently handed down five indictments charging him with grand larceny, extortion and forgery.

The motion was made in behalf of Anderson by counsel former Governor Charles S. Whitman, who characterized the indictments as "preposterous, absurd and ridiculous," and declared that his client was no more obliged to tell the court what he did with the mysterious $24,700 publicity fund "than his lawyer was to tell how much money he spent on his baby's clothes."

Enactment of the Cuban bill was counter to the advice of the United States Government. Gen. Crowder went to the specific purpose of leniency as he could as a special representative of President Ha shaping a legislative program would aid in the recovery of land Government from conditions.

MUSSOLINI PROMISES TO PAY U. S. DEBT, BUT WANTS TIME

MUSOLINI'S DILEMMA.
ROME, Aug. 2.—Italy, unlike France, has promised to pay her war debt to America irrespective of whether any reparations are forthcoming from the enemy Powers. Italy is weaker from an economic viewpoint than France, but she makes no conditions about her promise to pay.

"The Italian Government," said President Mussolini to the writer, "has declared it will meet the obligations completely because we have not our signature down and are not advocates of the scrap of paper. Naturally, as the United States has given 'relatively good terms' to Great Britain, Italy expects to be given terms proportionate to her economic strength."

In other words, the Italians wish to pay, but they want the terms of payment to be distributed over a period of years consistent with their capacity to pay. They also want interest charges that are not burdensome simply because the terms of payment may be lengthy. Several months ago the idea of Italy paying anything on her debt to America was usually dismissed as fantastic. Overwhelmed with debt and torn asunder by internal difficulties the prospect of paying any foreign debt was not worth discussing. The American Government in the last few months, however, has been able to settle its terms with Great Britain and this has stimulated American Ambassadors elsewhere to urge other countries to follow Great Britain's example.

Italy recognizes that first of all she must regain the confidence of American capitalists and that a step in the direction of paying the war debt would make a profound impression. As an instance of this policy of currying favor with America, there has been a good deal of winning and dining of American business men who might be presumed to exert their influence when they get home from their travels.

Words spoken by the American Government through Ambassador Richard Washburn Child supporting the Mussolini Government comes as a national sequel to the latter's promise to pay her debt. There is no doubt that Mussolini profited internally by the words of Child, which were reproduced in every Italian newspaper from one end of the Italian boot to the other.

Externally the Italian Government under Mussolini also is playing a shrewd diplomatic game. Originally the Italians were inclined to favor their Latin associates. Mussolini likes France for sentimental reasons, but that country harbored him when, as a Socialist, fleeing from the Italian police, he needed an asylum.

But France's Ruhr policy has injured Italy's economic position by depriving her of coal. Moreover, Italy, being weak in manufactures, wants to buy cheap and the virtual suppression of German trade has compelled Italy to buy from countries where the rate of exchange is higher.

So today Italy is veering close to Great Britain and even closer to the United States. Mussolini's entente with Washington will unquestionably have an effect on the European situation and perhaps on American foreign policy as well when the hour of reckoning on German reparations finally is reached.

LA FOLLETTE TO "TAPER OFF HIS TRAINING" ABROAD

Wisconsin Man One of Five U. S. Senators on Way to Interallied Parliamentary Union Meeting.

DECLARES HE IS IN "PINK OF CONDITION"

Will Be Ready for "All Comers" on Important European Subjects on His Return, He Says.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Declaring that he intended to obtain first-hand information regarding conditions in Europe, so that his "constituents would have nothing on me," Senator Robert M. La Follette sailed on the George Washington yesterday, with four other Senators, who are to attend the Interallied Parliamentary Union at Geneva.

Those sailing with him were Senators McKellar of Tennessee, McKinley of Illinois, Robinson of Arkansas and Swanson of Virginia. Representative John E. Raker of California also was in the party.

While these Senators were sailing they passed Senators Gerry of Rhode Island and Stanley of Kentucky, who return from a European trip on the Majestic.

La Follette in Jovial Mood.
Senator La Follette was in a jovial mood, and declared he was in the "pink of condition," that while his European tour was intended as a visit only, he would not neglect to look over the Continent and familiarize himself with important subjects.

He said his trip was directed mostly by Basil Manley, former United States Commissioner on Industrial Relations.

The Senator, who recently left a sanatorium in Michigan, declared he was feeling "great."

"Look at that arm," he said. "I'm going over to Europe to rest a bit and taper off my training. Then, when I get back, I'll be ready for all comers."

"In the political ring?" he was asked. No answer. He would not discuss affairs of state.

Senator Swanson said he would discuss Germany, France, England, Switzerland and Geneva, where he would study the workings of the League of Nations. From there he expects to go to Moscow.

Senator Swanson said the political situation in Europe was "very serious."

"It is impossible to say who the Democratic nominee should be for the next presidential election. The man should be a progressive liberal. This would be in accord with the sentiment existing in the country and with the traditions and aspirations of the Democratic party. It is too early to determine what the best man would be to these requirements."

"In regard to the World Court, I favor the United States entering the World Court as proposed in the message of President Harding and Secretary Hughes conveyed to the Senate before its adjournment. But I am opposed to the acceptance of the World Court as recently proposed by President Harding in his St. Louis address."

"I would not favor entering the court if it is to be a self-perpetuating court. This proposal is most reactionary and absurd. We would consider making our Supreme Court self-perpetuating. The World Court thus organized would be more objectionable than a national court so arranged."

Views of McKellar.
Senator McKellar intended to make an extensive tour of countries abroad and visit the Ruhr, Moscow, Rome, Paris, Berlin and London.

"As for the World Court, I was for it as outlined in President Harding's speech last February. But I do not favor the self-perpetuating court proposed by the President at St. Louis."

McKellar echoed almost verbatim the words of Senator La Follette of a few days ago that a third party move is certain if the old parties nominate reactionaries.

McKellar's prediction that the Democrats could be relied upon to nominate a "real, genuine, progressive Democrat." He did not venture to say who this would be, however.

Views of Senator Robinson.
Senator Robinson said he was in favor of the war finance corporation, co-operative marketing agencies and "any plan which appears to be reasonable and fair, to aid farmers caught in the jam of high prices for what they buy and low ones for what they sell." He would not be drawn into any discussion as to presidential nominee possibilities.

"I am not directly opposed to the World Court plan," he said. "But I am not in favor of it as suggested by President Harding in his St. Louis address."

Representative Raker, who is the ranking Democrat on the House immigration committee, will study the immigration problem. He hopes to obtain first-hand information on the subject when the House committee meets for consideration of the Johnson bill he will be able to discuss it from all angles.

People of Budapest "Live On One Another," Crowd Theaters and Buy Books

Apparently Do Not Try to Live Within Means, Causing a Peculiar State of Poverty.

This is the second of a series of articles on Central European conditions, written by Alexander Konta for the Post-Dispatch and the New York World. Konta was born in Budapest, Hungary, and is regarded as an authority on European subjects. After being graduated from the College of Pius Brothers, Budapest, he came to America and entered the literary field. In 1892 he married Annie Laurie Lomp of St. Louis, and for a time was a resident of St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Konta went to Budapest, where he founded a literary group, which is still in existence. His travels have taken him to many parts of the world. Konta translated and adapted several plays to the American stage, among them "The Devil." His home has been in New York for many years.

By ALEXANDER KONTA.
Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

BUDAPEST, July 16.—The war has left Hungary in poverty, and Budapest shows it. The great governmental and business buildings seem dirty and ill-kept in comparison with their clean and spotless past. Yet they remain impressive. The public parks are kept in apple-pie order, and the streets, too, are well kept, though perhaps not so clean as those in Vienna. A great many people move about with apparently nothing to do except study the value of the money-changers' windows. Between 12 and 3—the dinner hour—many shops are closed.

Externally everything seems quiet. It is the quiet of impending danger. For internal conditions are not peaceful. Within recent months a number of plots against the Government have been discovered. There is unrest in the air. Last week a bomb was thrown near a cafe in the middle of the money-changers' windows. Between 12 and 3—the dinner hour—many shops are closed.

HYDE WING SCENTS NEW 'OLD GUARD' PLAN FOR CONTROL

Babler Faction Reported to Be Arranging to Back Reilly or Dickey for National Committeeman.

GOVERNOR OR BARRETT MAY BE CANDIDATE

Attempt of "Outs" to Regain Party Supremacy to Be Vigorously Fought by Younger Element.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 2.—Reports that the Republican "Old Guard" is grooming E. M. Reilly and W. S. Dickey, both of Kansas City, as alternate prospects for Republican national committeemen from Missouri to succeed Jacob L. Babler of St. Louis have aroused Gov. Hyde and his followers in the State administration.

Who the more progressive wing of the party will send into the pit against the Babler-Morse-McJinnis-Morris-Dickey-Goldstein candidate, has not been determined, but the conferences which will settle that are in progress.

Except as a matter of principle and party conscience the younger element among Missouri Republicans affect to have little interest in the selection of the National committeemen. One reason is that the two leading figures in State administration, Governor Hyde and Attorney-General Barrett, have declared that on Jan. 1, 1925, they intend to put away the mantle of political ambition and return to paths of private endeavor.

Some Losing Interest.
The upheaval in Missouri Republicanism in the primary of 1920 brought into party activity and into the fields of the regulars who make a host of persons not inured to the hardships of party service. Men and women voters flocked to the crusaders' banners, attracted by the glamour of the cause and the call to "root out the bosses," flung high and wide after the Lowden fund disclosures which engulfed much of the personnel of the Old Guard directly or indirectly.

The trials of practical politics are too much, however, for the idealist whose heart is not of the stoutest, and after breaking a few lances on the shields of the regulars who make a profession for practical bankable profits, too often the business man or attorney or clubwoman who was intent on helping to "clean up" decided "What the use," and wanders back to former fields.

That movement already has occurred within the Republican party here in Missouri, for the house cleaners of 1920 have melted away like snow before an August sun.

"Ins" and "Outs" Compared.
Those who were elevated to the parapets of the party citadel as office holders still man the walls. Behind each of them remains a little group of personal supporters, willing to do anything to keep the political reformation again if need be, but they would rather not if it is all the same. The way is hard and the satisfaction of party purification is a fleeting thing in comparison.

The "outs" among Missouri Republicans, however, are the wily, seasoned politicians who for decades have been financing campaigns, and living precariously on the hands and holders of such other Federal and local offices as could be obtained in a state, most of whose state administrations have been Democratic. These men, for few women have been admitted to their councils and then only on the outer edges, have made politics a business, in and out of season. They have managed to obtain practically all of the Federal patronage distributed in Missouri in the last three years despite the almost complete repudiation of their entire membership during the last campaign.

Seek to Oust Hyde.
And these are the men who now are quietly arranging to oust Gov. Hyde and his friends from control of party organization next year.

They made a spirited bid for control of the state committee at Springfield last October, when the same of the bitterest sort of political poker was played between Gov. Hyde and Walter S. Dickey, to determine who would be chairman, and backing Dr. E. B. Clements of Macon for re-election, and Dickey demanding his head. Hyde won. But now the fight is on again.

The old line chiefs want no more about it this time. For control of the party machinery facilitates the naming of the "right" delegates to state and national conventions and is of considerable help in connecting worthy henchmen with jobs they want.

With little contest in prospect for the Republican presidential nomination unless something occurs to upset the evident decision of President Harding to run again, the picking

SIX OF 11 EASTERN STATES MAKE DRY ENFORCEMENT LAWS MORE STRINGENT

Legislatures of Four Take No Action—New York Only State to Repeal Prohibition Legislation.

By the Associated Press.

Of eleven states in the Eastern part of the United States, six took action through their Legislatures last winter toward more stringent prohibition enforcement. Notable among these was Pennsylvania. In four others no action was taken, while in New York the existing enforcement measure was repealed. A summary of the situation follows:

Delaware—In order to amend the Klear prohibition enforcement law at the last session of the Delaware Legislature was defeated in the closing hours of the session when a bill introduced by Representative Joseph M. Brogan, Democrat, died in committee. The measure was drafted by the Delaware State Medical Society and endorsed by the State Dental Society. It provided for a modification of the law to make it possible for druggists to fill prescriptions of physicians for medicinal purposes where the use of alcoholic stimulants was deemed necessary.

New York—Reports of the Sullivan-Gage state prohibition enforcement statute, adoption of a memorial to Congress requesting modification of the Volstead Act so as to legalize the sale of beer and wine and passage of a bill preventing seals and arrests by peace officers of the state without a warrant were the chief contributions of the New York Legislature to the wet and dry controversy.

The bill repealing the enforcement statute was the center of the storm. Introduced on the opening day of the session, it several times failed to gain a majority of votes in the Assembly and after a successful trip through the Senate, but finally was passed by a margin of one vote a few hours before final adjournment, nearly fifteen weeks after its introduction.

New Jersey—The prohibition question was not taken up by the New Jersey Legislature last winter.

West Virginia—The West Virginia Legislature amended the present prohibition law fixing heavier penalties for violations. An added section provided a sentence of from one to three years for any person found to have firearms or other weapons on his person or in a vehicle at or within 100 yards of a place where intoxicating liquors were being unlawfully manufactured, transported or sold.

Connecticut—During the session of the Connecticut Legislature bills were introduced to repeal the present State enforcement laws and to increase the lawful alcoholic content of liquors, the shells of the regulation, memorialize the Congress of the United States to change the Volstead

ATTITUDE OF CUBANS CAUSES U. S. CONCERN

Legislative Acts Believed to Be Behind Summing of Crowder to Washington.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Concern over the recent trend of legislative action in Cuba, culminating in the enactment of the lottery bill counter to the advice of the United States Government, is believed here to be the cause of the sudden summons from Havana of Ambassador Crowder, who is due to reach Washington next Monday.

Above the enactment of the lottery bill, however, as a factor in the situation, is the resolution adopted by the Cuban Congress at the time of the bill's enactment. The text of the resolution as made available here in an unofficial translation appears as so distinctly anti-American in character that it was said to have been considered advisable by the Washington authorities to call Gen. Crowder home for conference.

Enactment of the Cuban lottery bill was counter to the advice of the Ambassador and the views of the United States Government.

Gen. Crowder went to Cuba for the specific purpose of lending such aid as he could as a special representative of President Harding in shaping a legislative program that would aid in the recovery of the island Government from post-war conditions.

The resolution considered objectionable was adopted July 23 and, according to an unofficial translation, was a direct violation of the provisions of the lottery bill, as a sound economic measure.

Coupled with the review is the statement that one of the "principles" that prompted passage of the lottery bill was the fact that suggestions of self-government, a principle which should never have been initiated and which will reach dangerous proportions unless all the factors of the Cuban situation are taken into account. The firm impression of the people of Cuba will feel that the United States Government is attempting to deprive them of the exercise of their own initiative, improper because of the public faith with exactitude all its international obligations should be respected; unlawful because it is not in accordance with the treaties which determine the relations between the United States and the Government of Cuba; and finally, because it is a direct violation of the provisions of the lottery bill, as a sound economic measure.

KANSAS BONUS $32,000,000

Additional Money Needed Covered in Bill Just Drafted.

By the Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 2.—The $25,000,000 Kansas bonus fund is $7,500,000 short if all claims are to be paid in full, according to the final estimate prepared late today by Major Carl R. White, State bonus director, for the bonus commission to present to the special session of the Legislature which is to convene Monday.

It will take $32,792,579.34 to pay the claims of the 80,301 persons officially credited to have served from Kansas in the army, navy and marine corps during the World War. Director White estimated. The 70,366 claims already received call for $28,743,242, or more than $3,000,000 in excess of the $25,000,000 fund. White's statement shows.

A bill covering the shortage in the bonus fund already has been drafted by attorneys for the bonus commission. The amount needed to care for all claims in full will be written into the measure and be ready for presentation to the Legislature as soon as it convenes.

SUGAR RATE PLEA OVERRULED

Interstate Commerce Commission Holds Rail Charges Are Reasonable.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Railroad rates for sugar transportation were held to be generally reasonable today in an Interstate Commerce Commission decision rendered upon complaint of sugar refiners along the Atlantic seaboard, at New Orleans and on the Pacific coast.

Carriers were denied permission to reduce charges from the Pacific coast to Chicago to a point which would make them lower than existing rates from the Pacific coast to intermediate points. At the same time, the present comparative basis of rates from the New Orleans refining centers to the Middle West and from the Atlantic coast to the same destinations were held to be reasonable as they stand.

Army Department Enlarged.

HONOLULU, Aug. 2.—The Hawaiian Department of the United States Army has been increased in area to include virtually all of the central portion of the Pacific Ocean between the mainland and the Philippines, according to war orders received here.

The new allocation of eight additional islands and groups of islands are now within the jurisdiction of the Hawaiian department, increasing its area more than nine times, making the department the largest in the army, although most of the additional area is ocean.

Walsh Demands Extra Session.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, returned to Washington yesterday and renewed his demand for an extra session of Congress. Many questions should be taken up, he said, including the anthracite coal situation.

Shakespeare Crowds Theater

One of the theaters closed last week in a blaze of glory, after a Shakespearean season of twelve weeks, which was a different from the Shakespearean dramas were performed. The house was packed to the doors at all performances. All seats having been sold two weeks before, every night of the season this could be duplicated either in England or America. It is not irrelevant to say this, because many cynics assert that the vogue of Shakespeare on the continent is just a fad, and will pass.

What will be the outcome of Hungary's troubles no one can predict with certainty. The situation is almost beyond analysis. I dare say, my own opinion is that Hungary needs a strong constructive policy, both externally and internally. Externally it should be fashioned on the basis of good-will and co-operation, internally on immediate response to the more reasonable demands of the farmers and workmen.

Regarding foreign policy, Hungary, ever since the war, has been recalcitrant. She has permitted herself to feed upon her wrongs to an extent that her back is eternally against the wall. She does not make any effort to make amends, but she is absolutely impossible for anyone here to live within his earnings. In fact, no one tries to do it. Therefore everyone lives on credit. There is a wild orgy of speculation, buying and selling of all kinds of securities, doubtful and otherwise, going on, with the Bourgeoisie and the proletariat. The money is being poured out at interest on call, and managed to scrape along on this. The money is being poured out at interest on call, and managed to scrape along on this.

Prices go up without warning. It is practically impossible to obtain credit here in the shops. Even old customers are refused, the proprietors being faced with the situation that, on any order taken, except for cash they may lose their profit before the order can be executed.

Soft Coal "Policy Committee."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—A national policy committee of bituminous coal operators has been created. It was announced here yesterday that the industry in public matters. John C. Brydon, president of the National Coal Association, will act as chairman. Membership includes backing Dr. E. B. Clements of Macon for re-election, and Dickey demanding his head. Hyde won. But now the fight is on again.

The old line chiefs want no more about it this time. For control of the party machinery facilitates the naming of the "right" delegates to state and national conventions and is of considerable help in connecting worthy henchmen with jobs they want.

With little contest in prospect for the Republican presidential nomination unless something occurs to upset the evident decision of President Harding to run again, the picking Pinchot Orders Prison Study.

By the Associated Press.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 2.—Gov. Pinchot yesterday announced that Thomas Matt Osborne, former Warden of Sing Sing Prison, and Dr. George W. Kirchwey, widely known prison expert, had been appointed to undertake a study of Pennsylvania prisoners "with the special purpose of opening a way for the application of intelligent modern methods of dealing with prisoners and of restoring them to decent citizenship."

Pinpointments were made by the National Society for Penal Reform, which the Governor asked to make a study of the prisons.

PROTEST ON SEIZURE OF LANDS BY WAR LORDS

Chinese Row Over Railway Grants Results in Interposition of Foreign Consuls.

By the Associated Press.
HARBIN, China, Aug. 2.—Concerted action has been taken by the American, British, French and Japanese Consuls here to protest against the seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway land department by Chang Tso-Lin, the war lord of Manchuria, who ordered all the railway lands ceded to Russia under the old treaties taken over by his provincial Government.

The foreign Consuls, viewing the seizure of the land department as a direct violation of the Washington agreements, placed their official seals on a chest containing deeds to railway lands. After meeting to discuss the defense of foreign interests, the Consuls telegraphed to their diplomatic representatives at Peking.

The situation has been further complicated by Chang Tso-Lin ordering Chang Huan-Siang, the new head of the railway land department, to open publicly the chest containing the land deeds.

stormy days of 1920, with a story that Senator Harding wanted harmony in Missouri, and wanted Babler left alone.

The Harding headquarters both in Ohio and in Washington, however, denied having authorized Reilly to represent the then Senator in the Missouri controversy, which served only to link Reilly with Babler.

Gov. Hyde, Chairman Clements and Attorney-General Barrett are suggested as possible choices of the State administration for National Committeemen. As to this, however, only one thing is certain, that a vigorous fight will be made to prevent Babler or any one of his selection from being named to that position, the details still being "in the hands of the boss," as one high State official said today.

425,000 ATTENDANCE AT MUNICIPAL OPERA

Total Expected to Reach That Figure, at Least—$50,000 Reservations for 1924.

Approximately 425,000 persons, a number exceeding the population of Cincinnati and more than half the population of St. Louis, will have witnessed the 1923 productions of the Municipal Theater Association, according to an estimate by the management. Only four more performances will be given before the season closes next Sunday night with the final showing of "The Spring Maid."

It is stated that the average weekly attendance in the pay sections in the first nine weeks was slightly in excess of $2,000, justifying estimates of $10,000 paid admissions during the season. In addition, the free sections, with a capacity of 1500, has been filled at every performance, the additional number of spectators approximating 105,000.

Profit Less Than Last Year.
It is understood that the season will show a profit, but probably less than last year's surplus of nearly $40,000. Any decrease will not be due to diminished income, for this year there have been seven performances a week instead of six, and 16 weeks instead of eight. It will be caused by a determined effort to improve the standards of production. It is reported that the productions have cost an average of $27,000 each, an increase of several thousand dollars over the average in previous seasons.

The management has spent more money on its principals. It has a more expensive orchestra, the chorus of 15 receives $5 a week apiece more than before, and the stage scale has been increased. More money has been expended on settings, costumes and royalties.

Reservations exceeding $50,000 for the 1924 season are already on file at the Municipal Opera offices, it is announced. Many of these came from individuals who stood in the long lines of ticket buyers in the lobby, and discovered, on reaching the window, that only 10 and 25 cent seats were left.

Chorus Scholarships.
As a feature of the annual boat excursion held yesterday by the members of the troupe and its officers, announcement was made of the company's first award of scholarships to meritorious members of the chorus. The winners are Misses Myrtle Voss, Laura Tuckerman, Grace Brinkley and Marie Lenhardt, and Messrs. Elmer Lutz and Victor Sherman. Miss Ida Morche and Clara Schiller are named as alternates, in case scholarships are determined by any of the winners.

Each of the six scholarships carries a fund of $100, to be expended for training in singing, dancing and general stage work. The instructors will be chosen by the Municipal Theater Association. This is a step forward in the association's policy of eventually using St. Louis cast as well as a St. Louis chorus. The judges in the competition were Joseph Gilman Miller, Charles Hunt, David E. Russell, Frank M. Hauger and Charles Previn.

SENATOR COPELAND FORESEES DEMOCRATS AGAIN IN POWER

By Republicans Never Before Have Gone Over So Openly and Cruelly to Capital.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 2.—Charging that the Republican party has "misled and ignominiously failed," and expressing his confidence that the Democratic party again will come into power, Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, in an address before the Georgia General Assembly today discussed some of the chief factors entering into the problem. These, he said, were transportation and conservation of natural resources. The effect of these upon the farmer, laboring man, war veterans, and country at large, were especially stressed.

The farmer, Senator Copeland said, has suffered more than all the rest of society. Agriculture, he declared, is the fundamental industry of America, and unless the farmer prospers, there cannot be permanent prosperity for any nation.

As an essential in solution of the farm problem, he advocated changes in the tariff, in transportation and taxation and restoration of foreign markets.

Senator Copeland charged that the Republican tariff farmers forgot the farmer when they wrote the Ford-McCumber bill.

He charged the Republican party with being "strangely blind to the rights and privileges of labor," and lamented that never before has "it gone over so openly and cruelly to the side of capital."

Referring to the problem of transportation, Senator Copeland asserted that "on principle, the Democratic party is opposed to government ownership and operation, but it will deal vigorously with the problem of ownership, consolidation, earnings and operation of the railroads."

Senator Copeland deplored what he termed Republican abandonment of the "established policy of conservation."

"President Harding," he said, "in one of his Alaska joyride speeches, attacked natural conservation and advocated these treasures for the wasteful use of his generation."

MINSTREL SHOW FOR THE FREE ICE FUND

"Big Brothers," Composed of Business and Professional Men to Hold Benefit August 25.

Members of the "Big Brothers" Minstrels, a local musical organization composed of a score of business and professional men, are arranging a minstrel show to be presented at the Orpheum Theater, Saturday evening, Aug. 25, for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund. A generous quota of good dancing and ballad singing, interspersed with the benefit of the fund, the Orpheum has been specially adapted for the minstrel show, which should add substantially to the fund for the benefit of the group of friends at the Orpheum Theater, Saturday evening, Aug. 25, for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund. Use of the Orpheum Theater, including all attaches, has been given free for the evening by Marcus Helman, president of the Orpheum Circuit, through his St. Louis representative, E. J. Sullivan. This is the third consecutive year that the Orpheum has been donated for a complimentary opening to aid the Ice Fund. In 1921, the Children of America Loyalty League earned $1615 for the fund through their show, and last year that Stockham Post of the American Legion realized approximately $1000 by an elaborate vaudeville revue produced at the Orpheum for the benefit of the fund.

The regular scale of Orpheum Theater prices will prevail for the performance, with the exception that no postage tax will be charged, as the entire proceeds of the affair will accrue to the Ice Fund.

DR. MAYO GIVEN HONORARY DEGREE BY LEEDS UNIVERSITY

Attends Surgical Congress in England, Where Cancer Cures Are Discussed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Returning from a two months' trip abroad, during which he received honorary degrees from the University of Leeds, Dr. William J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., arrived yesterday on the Adriatic. Dr. Mayo went abroad to attend the international surgical congress in London.

Speaking of the findings of the congress, Dr. Mayo said he learned many things from the surgical problems under discussion. While he admitted nothing definitely new had been discovered, there had been a general realignment of ideas which was decidedly helpful. The war brought many medical and surgical developments, he said. Now these had been brought to a common center, where medical men can be brought into direct contact with them.

Dr. Mayo was asked if the congress had shown a cure for cancer. He shook his head dubiously and answered, "No."

"But," he said, "I was present at some experiments in Liverpool which were very promising. I am not saying a cure has been found, but I hold the results obtained in recent experiments are promising indeed."

The surgeon would not discuss the treatment or method, saying it had not yet reached a stage to be made public.

Husband at Church.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Tenn., Aug. 1.—Reversing all cases in history of brides deserted at the altar, an 18-year-old bride yesterday left her husband standing at the altar in a Springfield church while she directed her chauffeur to drive her back to her home in Kentucky.

The officiating minister, who told of the desertion, refused to disclose the couple's name. Immediately following the ceremony which made them man and wife the girl turned and walked outside the church to her waiting car. The husband merely attributed her attitude to her timidity and walked down to the railway station to purchase tickets for his home in Hopkinsville, Ky. On his return he found the girl had instructed her chauffeur to take her back to her home in Christian County, Ky., at once, without any word for the waiting groom.

SHIP RUM BAN RECALLS U. S. NOTE TO SPAIN

Discussion in House of Commons Relates to American Views Enunciated Years Ago.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

(Copyright, 1923, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.)
LONDON, Aug. 2.—An American note to Spain was brought up in the House of Commons yesterday as an argument against United States action in forbidding foreign ships to enter American ports with liquor aboard.

Sir William Davison said the United States in a dispatch to Spain admitted some years ago that every nation had the legal right to prescribe the conditions under which foreign ships entered its ports. But, the note added, these conditions should not conflict with well known, long established usages.

Ronald MacNeill, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, replied that his attention had not been drawn to such a dispatch and the question of calling it to the attention of the American Government was not being considered. He admitted the note might afford a precedent, but he could not say whether it would be desirable to raise the issue with America.

Sir Henry Brittain wanted to know what was being done with the liquor taken off the British ships in the United States.
"It is drunk," called out another member.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Search of State Department records produced today an ancient copy of instructions sent Oct. 28, 1857, to the American Minister at Madrid, directing him to call to the attention of the Spanish Government the case of the Crescent City, an American ship, carrying mail between New York,
New Orleans and Havana, which had been denied the right of landing at Havana and ordered out of the harbor in the face of a threatening gale.

The reason given by the Spanish authorities in Cuba for their action was that on arrival in New York on a previous trip, William Smith, purser of the Crescent City, had "published the grossest calumnies against the government of the island."

The instructions, sent to Madrid over the signature of C. M. Conrad, acting Secretary of State, said the American consulate at Havana had been informed the Crescent City had been denied the privileges of the harbor by the "superior civil government" of the island because of the alleged act of Smith, "and that if that individual (Smith) should thereafter return in any of the steamers of the company, or if any other person employed on board of them should venture to abuse, in a similar manner, the privileges granted by the Spanish authorities in the ports of the island, that fact alone should be sufficient to prevent the vessel which brought him from entering the port."

Text of Instructions.
The instructions conform with the language referred to yesterday in the House of Commons. It read as follows:
"The president directs that you lose no time in communicating these facts to Her Majesty's government and in expressing his surprise and regret that they should have occurred.

"You will state that his Government does not question the right of every nation to prescribe the conditions on which the vessels of other nations may be admitted into her ports, that nevertheless these conditions ought not to conflict with the recognized usages which regulate the commercial intercourse between civilized nations; that those usages are well known and long established, and no nation can disregard them without just cause of complaint to all other nations whose interests would be affected by their violation."

No Precedent, Officials Hold.
Contending that the offense charged against the ship's officer did not warrant excluding from the port of Havana a vessel carrying the mail, the instructions declared,
"that under these circumstances this Government had a right to expect that if the captain-general of the island should see fit to impose new and unusual conditions upon the continuance of these mails, due notice of these conditions would be given to this Government before proceeding to enforce the penalties attached to their nonobservance."

In view of the sections quoted above, officials here fail to see where this case affords a precedent for complaints on the part of any government against administration of the American prohibition law, which is fully known to all governments.
regulations under it also have been duly communicated with sufficient time allowed for compliance therewith.

New Freight Volume Record.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Railroads established a new record for freight volume during the week ending July 21. The total number of cars loaded with revenue freight, the American Railway Association reported yesterday, was 1,028,927, as compared with the previous record of

1,021,770 cars set during the week ending June 30. Despite the extraordinary demands upon the carriers for cars, there were 79,710 freight cars in good condition on July 22, classed as surplus.

The St. Louis Letter Carriers' Band played at Station KSD last night its farewell concert in St. Louis prior to departing on a tour of 18 cities, which will end at the National Convention of American Letter Carriers to be held at Providence, R. I., on Labor Day. The band has been engaged for concerts in each of the cities to be visited and will leave St.
Louis in about two weeks. The K.
Lewis band is one of the favorites in the organization of American Letter Carriers and is expected to win additional laurels on its forthcoming tour.
The concert given at Station KSD last night was under the direction of J. H. McClure, formerly band master of the 188th U. S. Infantry Band and was presented with all the spirit and musical brilliancy for which McClure is noted. In true military fashion it ended with The Star Spangled Banner which was taken in a faster tempo than usual, thus giving an element of novelty to the familiar melody.
The band is composed of 50 men, all of whom are letter carriers attached to the St. Louis Post Office, who use their leisure for practice and mass rehearsals. It is one of a number of similar bands in the American Association of Letter Carriers. McClure has been its director since its organization three years ago.

CHINCH BUGS AND DROUTH MENACE ILLINOIS CORN CROP
Semi-Monthly Report Shows Wheat and Rye Harvests Complete; Threshing Under Way.
By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 2.—Chinch bugs and drouth are menacing the corn crop in Illinois, according to the semi-monthly crop report issued today by A. J. Surratt, federal agricultural statistician.
Corn reports for the state have been optimistic until the latter part of the month, the report states, but drouth is causing deterioration in some areas. Much of the crop is beginning to shoot, and yield in some places will be lessened if the drouth continues. In sections where there have been local rains, however, conditions are favorable. The last two weeks have been generally favorable for haying, harvesting and threshing operations, but unfavorably hot and dry for grain, fruit and vegetables.
Chinch bugs have cut the yield of wheat and oats to some extent.
Wheat and rye harvest is complete with threshing well under way in the central area. Yields vary from good in the lower west central, or heavy acreage area, to fair elsewhere. Chinch bugs have reduced the yield in many central sections. Quality is reported fair to good.
There has been little threshing of oats yet, although the harvest is mostly completed in southern and central sections. Prospects are for a fair out-turn, although chinch bugs and hot weather have cut the yield. The effects of drouth are beginning to be noticed, in new clover.

CASE AGAINST GIRL THROWN OUT Man Had Her Arrested After Alleged Jilting.
Nick Klimovich of 1825 G. street, Madison, Ill., considered himself engaged to marry Miss Agnes Gloss of 2520 South Broadway, and gave Miss Gloss $700 with which to purchase her trousseau. Miss Gloss later returned $500 of the money, whereupon Klimovich had her arrested on a charge of embezzlement of the other $200.
At a preliminary hearing yesterday Miss Gloss was discharged by Judge Hochdoerfer on Klimovich's own statement of the case that there never had been a certainty of marriage, which offset his original charge that the money was given on condition that the marriage take place.
Shows His Ties and Is Freed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 2.—
When Elmer I. Schultz proved to the police of Hillsboro today that he had on toes, he obtained his liberty and proved his identity. Schultz went into a drug store to make a purchase. Someone thought he looked like Paul Mayo, one of the escaped Chester prisoners. Chester reported, however, that Mayo was minus a toe.
Schultz promptly demonstrated that he had all ten of his, and he was released.

CHARGES DRY SQUAD STAGED DRINKING PARTY IN HER HOME

New Orleans Woman Also Tells Officials She Missed $2000 Diamond Brooch Afterward.
NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 2.—The Federal grand jury today began an investigation of charges by Mrs. Mary Vigneau, a professional nurse, that after a raid on her residence by six prohibition agents during her absence she returned to discover a diamond brooch valued at $2000 and several hundred dollars in cash missing. She further charged that while in her home the agents staged a cigarette smoking and beer party, stating that she found her kitchen littered with cigarette butts and empty near-beer bottles.

Whisky and grain alcohol seized by the dry agents she claims to have had in her possession before the Volstead Law went into effect. When the grand jury adjourned it was learned it had been called to meet in special session Friday to continue the investigation of the Vigneau charges and charges by others that the agents had acted illegally.

BARRETT PRODS CODE CONVENTION ON REDISTRICTING

Movement to Block Action on Senatorial Districts Draws Attorney-General's Fire.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 2.—A movement among certain delegates, in the Constitutional Convention, to block any attempt to disturb the present state senatorial gerrymander, today drew fire from Attorney-General Barrett, a Republican.

Barrett, who with Gov. Hyde and Secretary of State Becker, also Republicans, arranged a new set of districts in 1921, which the State Supreme Court declared unconstitutional, said today in a formal statement that, unless the convention realigns the senatorial districts there is little hope of any change within the decade.

In Hands of Committee.
Redistricting is in the hands of a convention committee, of which Henry Lay of Warsaw, a Democrat, is chairman. By common consent the question has been ignored until toward the close of the convention. But now, with nearly everything else out of the way, many Democrats in the body have begun to find excuses why the convention should not draft a redistricting.

A subcommittee composed of State Senator Frank H. Farris of Rolla and J. H. Gunn of Ottumwa, Democrats, and F. E. Elvins of Boone Terre and H. H. McClure of Kansas City, Republicans, is supposed to be drafting a set of senatorial districts. In reality it has been practically nothing, due to the continued absence, first of Farris, then of Elvins.

Various Proposals.
Some of the Democrats want the districting left to the Legislature, others say that the provision allowing the Governor, Attorney-General and Secretary of State to redistrict in the event the Legislature fails to do so should be written in the new Constitution.

The net result of all these ideas is to perpetuate for the time, at least, the present districts, which admittedly are grossly unfair.

Experience has indicated that no body under partisan control, which is nearly always true of the Legislature and of State officials, will produce a redistricting plan which will stand all tests of fairness.

The constitutional convention is as nearly bipartisan as a deliberative body well can be, having 42 Republican members and 41 Democrats.

Hence the hope that if it does redistrict, the work will be reasonably fair.

Barrett's Statement.
Barrett's statement in part follows: "The people generally do not understand how extreme are the present injustices. The senatorial districts are supposed to be equal in population, but think of one district with a population of 141,000 and another with a population of only 55,000. Jackson County has two districts and they average 188,000 each; St. Louis has six districts, the average population of which is 128,000. Elsewhere in the State, however, there are other districts having 57,000 or 62,000, etc. These inequalities grow worse daily, for it is these smaller districts that are losing in population while the city districts are increasing. In another ten years, the basis of districting will be still less representative.

"The Supreme Court has held that there is no longer any power in the Governor, Secretary of State and Attorney-General to lay out new districts. Unless the constitutional convention submits a fair districting plan, there is no apparent hope of change within a decade.

House Representation.
"Perhaps it is not generally understood that in the House of Representatives each county, however small, has its representative, but that the larger cities have only one additional representative for each two and a half times their quota. It was intended that the House should have members on the basis of geography rather than population and should be the bulwark of the country districts against too much power in the hands of the cities.

"The point is that the branch of the Legislature which is presumed to be apportioned entirely on equality of population is the Senate. Of course the constitutional convention, if it will, can submit a plan of districting which will be entirely fair to the cities.

PESKY BED-BUGS

(Pesky Devils) P. D. O. is the new chemical that puts the everlasting to the Pesky bedbugs, roaches, fleas, and mosquitoes—impossible for the pesky devils to exist where P. D. O. is used.

Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroad Companies and other institutions are a guarantee to the public that the new chemical is the most economical way of ridding the pesky insects by the use of P. D. O. as this chemical kills the eggs as well as the live ones, and will not injure the clothing. It is a full quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or mosquitoes. It is contained in a small bottle and can be used in the hardest-to-reach places. It is a liquid. P. D. O. can also be purchased in sealed bottles, double strength, liquid form. Sold by Wolff-Willson Drug Co. and other leading druggists.

the cities as well as to the counties and free from partisanship. It is impossible to believe that such a proposal would not receive public approval. The only alternative would be to say that the citizens of Missouri do not believe in fair deal."

British Consuming More Tea.
Correspondence of the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 15.—Prohibition is responsible for a considerable increase in the quantity of tea consumed through the world, according to Mining Lane experts. Britishers now consume tea at the rate of eight and one-half pounds a head, compared with six and one-half pounds a few years ago. Some of this increase is due to the high price of beer.

Get Rid of That Bad Back!

Is a dull, constant backache spoiling your summer? Do sharp pains stab you at every sudden move? Are you so lame, tired and discouraged it seems you just can't keep going? Then you know something is wrong and you should lose no time correcting it. More than likely it's your kidneys. When the kidneys weaken, poisons overload the system and cause many mysterious aches and ills. Your back aches; you are lame, stiff and rheumatic; your head aches; you are dizzy and apt to have annoying bladder irregularities. You feel nervous and depressed—utterly worn-out and miserable. Why wait, then, for some serious kidney trouble? Why not help the weakened kidneys before it is too late? Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These St. Louis Folks Found Relief:

J. W. RIDDLE, 7127 Latham Ave.,
says: "A hard cold weakened my kidneys and brought on backache. I felt heavy and draggy, and when sitting or standing very long I felt tired and weak across my kidneys. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. Doan's were just the medicine I needed and soon had my kidneys strong again."

MRS. J. W. LONG,
4115 Osborn Ave.,
says: "I had dizzy spells and colored specks seemed to float before my eyes and everything would get black. I also suffered from sharp, stinging pains through my back whenever I tried to bend over. A neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and I had hardly started using them before I could see benefit. I have used Doan's since then occasionally when I have felt a little out of condition and they have always given the same good relief."

W. MARTIN,
Carpenter, 4143 Sargy Ave.,
says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a number of years. When I overworked and strained my back my kidneys became disordered and acted frequently. Backache followed and it was difficult to do any lifting or bending. At such times I have always found Doan's Kidney Pills are all that is required to cure the attack and make my back strong again."

An Automobile Is a Valuable Vacation Accessory

THE chief value of a vacation—especially the week-end vacation to the busy indoor worker—is getting out into the open air and sunshine, and nothing aids in the accomplishment of this end like having an automobile.

To own an automobile is not a luxury. Indeed, you cannot plan a more satisfying trip at less cost than to purchase a good car and go touring through the country, with congenial companionship, behind your own steering wheel.

The place to pick such a car is from the classified "Automobiles" columns in the Post-Dispatch. Here the dealers of St. Louis list and describe their best used models and thus give to the great clientele of the Post-Dispatch readers opportunity to select from the best of them.

Read the automobile offerings now and answer the "Call of the Road."

Refusal of Lee Fohl to Support Danforth Angers Browns; Manager Declines to Explain His Position

Southpaw Charged With Pitching "Doctored" Balls Has Backing of All Teammates, but Leader Refuses to Join in Petition to Ban Johnson in Suspended Player's Behalf.

By Dent McKimmin,
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 2.—The question of whether or not Dave Danforth is guilty of tampering with a baseball pitched by him, as charged by Captain Moriarty, at Philadelphia, yesterday, has almost torn the camp of the Browns. Danforth was ejected from the game in the ninth inning and is now under automatic suspension for 10 days.

Although all the players were generally incensed at the disbarment of Danforth, Manager Fohl remained apparently unperturbed. It was proposed that a wire-up letter to Danforth, signed by each member of the club, should immediately be sent to Ban Johnson, president of American League. All expressed willingness to sign the telegram except Fohl and his refusal to do so resulted in reconsidering and discarding the idea.

This evident unwillingness on the part of Fohl to jump to the support and defense of the accused pitcher resulted the players and they became a very disgruntled squad. Fohl declined to explain his attitude except to say:

"I have no comment to make relative to Danforth." He refused to express his opinion as to the merit of Dave's pitching, but commented: Danforth's Work May Be Impaired.

"He will be sorely crippled with-out his services and when he does return to the game the opposing pitchers and the umpire will so handle and scrutinize and embarrass him that he may lose some of his effectiveness."

Captain Moriarty expressed himself as absolutely certain that the ball in question had been "doctored."

"I have been in the game for 18 years and I can easily recognize a ball that has been 'worked' on," said the umpire. "I warned Danforth repeatedly during the game to throw the ball alone for I had observed slight evidence of tampering. The ball which he pitched to Matthews in the ninth inning was a brand new ball."

The attitude of the players in this case is in direct contrast to their attitude toward Danforth, last season, when he was put out of the game by Umpire Owens. On that occasion his mates gave the pitcher an encouraging pat on the shoulder and hardly a kind word. Today they are almost vociferous in their protestations of his innocence. There is a general conviction that Danforth is this time a victim of circumstance. The ball in this case is but slightly soiled or discolored. On its surface was a brown spot about an inch square. Last year the ball that put Dave out of the league had "loaded seams," the umpire said. The evidence in this case is decidedly less convincing.

Never has Danforth been discovered by an official while in the act of tampering with the ball. The accusations always are based on the appearance of balls after they had been delivered to a batter.

"I feel certain that Moriarty made a mistake in putting Dave out," said catcher Hank Severid last night. "If Danforth were fooling with the ball, surely I would be able to detect it and I declare that I did not see him in any manner illegally handle the ball."

If Fohl's reticent attitude is based upon the possession of either evidence against Danforth, he has not made that evidence public. Business Manager Bill Friel stated last night that the club is not contemplating taking any action in the case pending Ban Johnson's decision in the matter.

The game, won by the Browns from the Athletics 2 to 0, hangs in the balance for Connie Mack filed a protest with the umpire.

FRANCE DEFEATS SPAIN IN FINAL OF EUROPEAN DAVIS CUP NET SERIES

By the Associated Press.
DEAUVILLE, Aug. 2.—The French tennis players, by completing their defeat of Spain in the final of the European zone of the Davis Cup tournament, have earned the right to travel to the United States to meet the winner of the Australia-Japan final of the American zone to determine what nation is to oppose the United States in the challenge round.

Rene La Coste, who will be one of France's representatives in the United States, was the main stay of the French team, his defeat of Count de Gomar being the only reverse the Spanish nobleman suffered in the Davis Cup singles in Europe this year. Their match was the turning point in the series.

The school boy also will be France's best bet in America and with Henri Cochet, who played there last year and Andre Gobert practically out of it, it will be up to Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon to carry the rest of the French Davis Cup ambitions. Business affairs make it impossible for Franco-Bianchy, the French champion, to make the trip.

It was by superior steadiness that Bianchy beat the finisher touch on France's victory over Spain in his match with Plaqueur this afternoon by the score of 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1, giving France three matches to two. The Spaniard played erratically and really defeated himself by netting the ball and hitting it out.

School Athletes Subsidized, Says The Alumni News

Big Ten Writer Wants All Who Receive Financial Aid Disqualified.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Charging that many Western conference athletes are being given financial backing by interested alumni and that Prep school athletes are being subsidized by alumni for intercollegiate competition, an article in the Northwestern University Alumni News, today made a demand for disqualification of all athletes who receive any financial assistance for competing for their school in athletics.

The article asks that the conference officials amend the rules and says that the "stakes are increasing large and as a result the practice is seriously demoralizing the viewpoint and morality of high school boys of athletic ability."

On the subject of scholarships the article said: "It is understood that in several such institutions valuable scholarships are annually awarded to students largely on account of their athletic ability, without regard to scholastic attainments."

It added that intercollegiate athletics are in danger of becoming so commercialized that universities may eventually bar athletic contests. Signs already appear, the article said, that secondary schools are being subsidized and "the young athlete of high school age has gained the impression that football is one of the most important functions of the college," and gives a chance to "capitalize athletic ability."

PARK TENNIS GAINING FAVOR IN AUSTRALIA

Public park tennis is gaining rapid strides in Australia, according to reports from that country. At Adelaide a special championship prize has been created for the park players. Every club that plays on the park courts under the control of the City Council, will conduct its own championship. The winners of these club tournaments will then compete in the park titular tournament, the winner to be acclaimed champion, and be accredited with a leg on the new trophy.

PRICES IRREGULAR ON STOCK MARKET; TRADE MODERATE

Opening Cheerfulness Not Maintained—Bond Section Firm as Whole—French Francs Decline, Then React.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial view today says:

There was cheerful tone to the stock market at the opening and during the first hour of the morning. But before the market had advanced more than a few points, a French franc decline, then a reaction, and a general feeling of uncertainty, acted as a weight on the market. The market was not so strong as it had been the day before. In fact, weakness in the market was apparent from the start. The market was not so strong as it had been the day before. Trading in the foreign exchanges continued to be mostly to the posting of quotations. Such interest as appeared was centered in the French franc, which was within a few points of the low for all time. When this level was reached, a good rally set in which carried the market above the previous close. The francs meanwhile touched a new low of 48 1/2 cents, against 47 1/2 cents yesterday and 47 1/2 cents the day before. The rally in francs helped the German mark and the German mark advanced to 12 1/2 cents, against 12 1/4 cents yesterday and 12 1/4 cents the day before. "Cotton is irregular." Trading in this staple was largely under the influence of the Government report, issued yesterday afternoon. The short cover condition estimate did not run its course until well into the afternoon session and prices made early afternoon around 40 points. With a slackening in the demand and the influence of profit-taking and early afternoon selling, all of the early hours the market appeared to be backing and filling in a narrow way. SEEKS TO WITHDRAW AS PARTY TO RECEIVERSHIP SUITSalesman Says He Signed Power
Truck and Tractor Co. Petition Through Misrepresentation.

T. H. Roberson, an automobile salesman, one of eight petitioners who last Saturday filed receivership proceedings in Circuit Court against the Power Truck & Tractor Co., 5500 Goodfellow avenue, yesterday filed an affidavit in Circuit Court asking that the receivership proceedings be dismissed and that he be withdrawn as a party to the suit on the ground that he had never sworn to the petition and had signed it through misrepresentation.

In the affidavit, Roberson states that he was approached by George J. Thomas, engineer of the Power Truck Co., who asked him to sign the petition in the interest of the company and stockholders. Thomas is alleged to have told Roberson, according to the affidavit, that the State was preparing to put the company under receivership and that similar action on the part of the stockholders would save the company a 5 per cent commission and in addition would protect stockholders' interests. Thomas was in a hurry, Roberson said in his affidavit, so he signed the petition without reading it and without the formality of swearing to the facts embodied in it. As a result of the petition the directors of the company must appear in Circuit Court Aug. 14 and show cause why a receiver should not be appointed.

The Aerial Age Is Here

The Age of Aerial Transportation is at hand! Business and commerce always demand the quickest, shortest and most direct routes for the transportation of passengers and goods. No matter how crude or dangerous the new means of transportation may be in its infancy, sooner or later man will refine it and eliminate the danger.

Man captured the wild horse, tamed him and made him supersede the camel, for the purposes of rapid transit. For the same reasons, he made the steamboat surpass the sailing vessel, the locomotive the stage coach, and the automobile the street car.

In the short space of twenty years man has made the aeroplane and the dirigible carry him and his chattels farther and faster than any other means of transportation known.

An aeroplane has climbed to 35,000 feet, or a mile higher than the highest mountain in the world; it has remained in the air over 36 hours without a stop.

MAJ. GENERAL MASON M. PATRICK, Chief of the U. S. Army Air Service—"St. Louis Field will be a permanent asset to the whole country for all time to come."

A dirigible has flown the Atlantic to and from Europe and America; and one has flown over 6500 miles without stopping. Before another year has come to pass dirigibles may be flying with passengers around the world and to the North Pole.

Landing Fields Essential

But landing fields are to aircraft what railroad tracks are to the locomotive, a highway to an automobile and a seaport to an ocean liner. The cities which first provide proper and adequate landing fields, or airports, for these new aerial liners will be placed on the great air routes of the world, and will prosper in proportion to the growth of this new industry, as the seaports of the world have prospered and grown in affluence and wealth.

St. Louis Field will place St. Louis on the Atlantic Seaboard for the trans-oceanic air liners, and at the same time will be a permanent airport for all aircraft flying the continent, either from east or west. In other words, the construction of St. Louis Field will place St. Louis on the aeronautical map of the world!

MAJ. ALBERT BOND LAMBERT—"I expect to see, within seven years, commercial airships landing here, not only from all parts of the west and southwest, but from Mexico, Central and South America."

St. Louis Community Spirit

1—Made the World's Fair a Big Success
2—Created the Pageant and Masque

3—Built the Municipal Theater
4—Passed the $87,000,000 Bond Issue

AND IS NOW Enlisted for the Outstanding Success of the AIR RACES and AERONAUTIC EXPOSITION, and the FUTURE GLORY OF THE ST. LOUIS AIRPORT.

St. Louis Aeronautical Corporation

Organized and controlled by leading business men of the city, has made possible the holding of the GREATEST AIR MEET the world has ever known, and construction at St. Louis Field of a PERMANENT AIR TERMINAL.

To make it a COMMUNITY ENTERPRISE, the Corporation was financed by issuing 4000 shares of go-par-value, non-assessable stock, to the amount of $200,000, which was offered to the public on equal terms, large and small stockholders receiving absolutely the same treatment.

PERMANENT ASSETS include: 183 acres of land, $100,000; grading and other improvements, $60,000; buildings, $35,000; water system, $5000; total, $200,000.

POTENTIAL ASSETS: Revenue from paid admissions, estimated at $200,000; estimated revenue from concessions, program and advertising privileges, $50,000.

THIS STOCK has been largely subscribed by business men, firms and public-spirited citizens generally. A limited amount is still available.

The Whole City Will Own St. Louis Field

Around which will center the future commercial airport activities of the WEST and SOUTHWEST, as well as the immense transcontinental traffic that is expected to develop.

PREPARING FOR THE BIG AIR MEET IN ST. LOUIS COUNTY IN OCTOBER

Two views are given of the framework for the hangars which are being erected on St. Louis Field at Bridgeton to house the planes which will compete in the race for the Pulitzer trophy and other prizes. It is less than a month ago that the cornerstone for this structure was "laid" by being dropped from an airplane. The tractor and wagon show the method by which the landing field has been reduced to an almost perfect level. Ten tractors were employed. The farm scene shows the site of the grandstand which is to hold the spectators.

FROM NOW ON

By FRANK L. PACKARD

"All right," he said, halting in front of the cot. "Maybe we'll get along better on another tack. I'm not beating about the bush, Dave."—his voice was a little harder, crisper, sterner—"I want to know where that hundred thousand dollars is. But I told you that I'd put you straight first on where you stand. Now, listen! We've played both ends to the middle. We believed that the story Runty Mott and Baldy Vickers told was true, but both men had a record, and you can't be sure of a crook on his own say-so. We didn't take any chances, and so we're sure now. Those men were watched—not for a couple of weeks, or a couple of months, but for the last four years. They don't know where the money is, and they never did know what you did with it after you handed them that automobile smash and beat it for the woods. Get that? It's up to you! And now, get this: I told you in the hospital that day, you remember, that you could never get away with it, and that's as true as I'm standing here talking to you now. You've got some brains, Dave—use 'em now for your own sake. From the moment you step outside these walls you're a marked man, and not for a little while either, but for all your life. They'll never let up on you, Dave. Let that sink in! And it ain't only just old Joe Barjan you've got to fool. Talking race, Dave, your number's up on the board on every police track in this country from one end to the other. You can't beat that kind of a game. I'm talking straight, and you know it. Come on now, Dave, pry them lips of yours apart, and come across!"

Dave Henderson's lips parted—but it was only to touch them with the tip of his tongue. They were dry. His eyes were still on that coarse, ungainly toe. Its significance had taken concrete form now. He knew now what it meant. It typified a living hell of five long years, a ghastly hell and a ghastly price paid for that hundred thousand dollars—years that had left a stench in his nostrils that would live as long as he lived—years that piled the daily, never-ending details of petty persecutions, of loathsome associations, of miserable discomforts, of haggard dreariness, of heart sickness, of bitterness that was the bitterness of gall, into one overwhelming mass of horror from which the soul recoiled, blanched, seared, shriveled. And it went back further than that. It went back to a night of the long, long ago, eternities ago, a night when, in physical torture and anguish from his wound, his teeth had sunk into his lips, and he had become blood-fanged like the hunted animal at bay he was, and he had endured until the blackness came. That was what it meant, this rough, heavy, ungraceful clod of a prison boot upon his foot! It meant that he had gone the limit, that he had never hedged, that he had paid the price, all of it—all of it—except only the 63 days that were left.

"Ain't you going to say anything, Dave?"

Tony Lomazzi must have shuffled his way back to the bars of his cell door. The old Italian was whispering and muttering again. If one listened very intently, one could hear him. There was no other sound.

Barjan cleared his throat.

"Look here," he said slowly, "what's the use, Dave? I've showed you that you're bound to lose, and that on that score it don't pay. And I don't pay any way you want to look at it. You don't have to go out of here a marked man, Dave. There ain't any truth in that—that the police never give a guy a chance to go straight again. There ain't anything in that. It's all up to the guy himself. You come across, make good on that money, and I'll guarantee you'll get the squarest deal any man ever got. Why, it would be proof in itself that you meant to go straight, Dave, and everybody'd fall over himself to give you the glad hand. You can see that, can't you, Dave? Don't you want to look the other fellow in the eye for the rest of your life? Don't you want to be a free man? You've got a lot of years ahead of you. Ain't you ever thought of a home, and kiddies, maybe? It don't pay, Dave—the other way don't. You've got the chance now to make good. What do you say?"

Tony Lomazzi was still muttering. Strange the guard was letting the old bomb-thrower have so much license tonight! Tony seemed to be chattering louder than he had ever chattered in all the years he had occupied that next cell there!

Barjan laughed a little in a low, but not unpleasant way.

"Well, then, listen again, Dave," he said. "I got one more thing to tell you. You know what I've said is right. You come across, and I'll see that you get your chance—and you don't have to wait for it, either. Dave. I've got it all fixed. I've got the papers in my pocket. You come across, and you walk out of here a free man with me right now—tonight!" He leaned forward and slapped Dave Henderson's shoulder again. "Tonight—Dave—get that? Right now—tonight—this minute! What do you say?"

It was true! The tentative plan he had half formulated was no good! He realized that now. To lay low and wait was no good—Barjan had made that clear. The hope that the police might veer around to the belief that Runty Mott and Baldy Vickers were, after all, the men to watch, was no good either—Barjan had made that equally clear. There didn't seem to be any way out—and his number was up on the board on every police track in the country. Yes, that was true, too. He lifted his eyes from the toe of his boot for the first time, and met Barjan's eyes, and held the other's for a long minute in a steady gaze.

And then Dave Henderson spoke—for the first time.

"You go to hell!" he said.

WOLVES ON THE SCENT.

GUARDS on the raised platforms at either end of the room, guards circulating amongst the striped figures that toiled over the work benches, guards watching everywhere. They aroused a new and sullen fury in Dave Henderson's soul. They seemed to express and exemplify to-day in a sort of hideous clearness what Barjan had told him last night that he might expect in all the days to follow.

His number was up on the board!

He had not slept well last night. Barjan did not know it, but Barjan had struck a blow that had, in a mental way, sent him groggy to the ropes. He was groggy yet. His mind was in confusion. It reached out in this direction—and faltered, not quite sure of itself; it groped out in another direction—and faltered. It seemed to have lost its equilibrium and its poise. He had never expected that the whole world would turn its back while he walked from the penitentiary to Mrs. Tooler's pigeon-cote and tucked that package of a hundred thousand dollars under his arm. In that sense Barjan had told him nothing new. But nevertheless Barjan had struck home. He could not tell just where in the conversation, at just precisely what point, Barjan had done his, nor could he tell in any concrete way just what new difficulties and obstacles Barjan had reared up. He had always expected that it was up to him to outwit the police when he got away from these cursed guards. But his mind was haggard this afternoon. He had lashed it, driven it too hard through the night and through the morning. It had lost tenacity. It would not define. The only thing that held and clung there, and would not be dislodged, was the unreal, a match of nightmare out of the little sleep, flitting and troubled, that he had had. He was swimming across a dark, wide pool whose banks were all steep and impassable except at one spot which was very narrow, and here a figure worked feverishly with a pile of huge stones, building up a wall against him. He swam frantically, like a madman; but for every stroke he took, the figure added another stone to the wall; and when he reached the edge of the bank the wall was massive and high, and Barjan was perched on the top of the wall grinning at him.

He raised his hand, and drew it across his eyes. The clatter and clamor in the carpenter shop here around him was unendurable. The thud of a hammer jarred upon him, jangling his nerves; the screech of the band-saw, a little way down the shop, was like the insane raving of some devil, with a devil's perverted sense of humor, running up and

How You May Make Your Hair Grow Longer

By LUCREZIA BORI

YOUR hair has grown so remarkably in the last few months," I remarked to a friend the other day as I happened to come in while she was drying her hair by a sunny window.

"It does seem longer," she answered.

"What have you done to bring this about?" I asked.

"I've been giving myself hot olive oil treatments to nourish my hair and improve it generally, and it seems to have grown longer into the bargain," she answered.

I reflected that, of course, hair which is generally healthy will grow faster and be glossy and altogether more attractive than hair which is undernourished and not in perfect health. So I inquired particularly into the treatment which is benefiting her so.

She told me that she had been in the habit of having her hair shampooed every other week, and going for a massage treatment on the week in between. Then the shampoo parlor moved to a location further away, so she took over the care of her hair herself.

"I decided that it needed a glossier finish, and as I knew my hair was inclined to be a trifle dry, I decided down a devil's scale. There were 62 days left.

His eyes fell upon old Tony Lomazzi a few benches away. Showing under Tony's cap, the hair, what there was of it, was silver—more nearly silver than it had somehow ever seemed to be before. Perhaps the prison barber had been a little late in getting around to the old man this time, perhaps it was because it was a little longer, perhaps that was it. It was strange though, rather queer! His eyes, arrested now, held on the other, and he seemed to be noticing little details that had never attracted his attention before. His own hands, that mechanically retained their grip upon the plane he had been using, were idle now. Certainly those old shoulders over there were more bowed and bent than he had ever seen them before. And the striped form was very frail; the clothes hung on it as clothes hang on a scarecrow. There was only the old fellow's side face in view, for the other's back was partially turned, but it appeared to possess quite a new and startling unfamiliarity. It wasn't the gray-white, unhealthy pallor—old Tony wasn't the only one who had that, for no one had ever claimed that there was any analogy between a penitentiary and a health resort—but the jaw was most curiously gaunt, and drawn inward as though the man were sucking in his cheeks, and yet the skin seemed to be stretched tight and hard as a drum-head. Very curious! It must be because he couldn't see the sharp little black eyes, full of fire, that put life and soul into that scarecrow frame.

Old Tony turned, and their eyes met. The old man lifted his head as though to wipe his mouth—and there was a little flint of the fingers in Dave Henderson's direction. It was the old, intimate, little signal that had passed between them unnumbered times in the thousand years that they had spent together here in the penitentiary carpenter shop—but he had been quite wrong about the eyes. Something seemed to have filmed across them, veiling their luster. And suddenly Dave Henderson swallowed hard. Sixty-two days! Old Tony hadn't much more than that. Perhaps another year at the outside, and the old life would be free, too.

Dave Henderson's mind reverted to Lieutenant Joe Barjan, of the plain-clothes squad. It was perfectly true that playing a lone hand against the police of all America was a desperate game—desperate in the sense that success was in jeopardy. That was what made his brain confused and chaotic now. He was afraid—not of Barjan, not of all the police in the United States in a physical way, he had never hedged a bet, and the five years that he had now paid would road him on more than ever to face any physical risk, take any physical chance—but he was afraid now, sick with fear, because his mind would not respond and show him clearly, definitely the way to knock Barjan and his triumphant grin from off that nightmare wall, and—ed olive oil would be the best thing I could use," she said. So she gave me in detail the treatment which has helped her so.

It occurs to me that many of my readers might do well to consider this olive oil treatment as a summer diet for their hair. Whether your hair is inclined to dryness or not, olive oil will undoubtedly give it nourishment which cannot fail to bring gloss and added beauty.

If your hair is inclined to be oily, the application of olive oil every two weeks before your shampoo won't make this condition any more apparent, for, of course, you wash your hair thoroughly, removing every bit of oil that you have put into it.

Now, you must choose morning for your shampoo time, as you will want to apply your olive oil the night before. Of course, if it becomes necessary for you to go out before you shampoo your hair, a hat may be made to hide a multitude of sins. Still, no woman likes to go about with hair which looks oily and lies flat against her head.

The night before you are going to wash your hair you must brush and comb it thoroughly, removing every tangle. Have your olive oil in a tiny pan over the fire. Pour a little of it into a saucer, leaving the pan full of oil near the fire so you can keep the applications hot.

Have your hair parted down the middle, with tiny offshoots from this part dividing your hair into sections so that you can reach every portion of your scalp. Dip your fingertips into the oil and rub it into your head, rubbing the oil well down into the roots of your hair with a brisk movement that will nourish your scalp at the same time that it allows the oil to seep well down toward each hair root. As the oil in the saucer cools, replenish it with warm oil from your pan.

You will have to sleep with a thick towel over your pillow. Wash your hair next morning and rinse it well. Dry it in the sun and you will be delighted with its silky appearance. Repeat every two weeks.

How You Can Make the Summer Kitchen a Comfortable Place

By WANDA BARTON

KITCHENS have their seasons, as do flowers and other nice things, and they should be suitably dressed for each in turn. If we cannot afford to do over our kitchens or get the landlords to do so, we should do the best we can by cleaning thoroughly and eliminating the useless things that clutter needlessly. This process of eliminating is too often overlooked, and if neglected, it causes a lot of extra and profitless work all summer.

In the first place, when the screens go in, remove the extra curtains of muslin, gingham or other materials, and add a dark green shade to each window. Then, when the morning work is done, draw down the windows and shades on the sunny side, draw down the windows on the shady side and pull down the dark shades. If this is done, the kitchen will be as cool as any other room when it comes time to go in there to get the dinner.

All the winter cooking pots not likely to be needed in the summer should be cleaned and put away, leaving the summer-cookery pots and pans in convenient places. Then all cracked and broken stuff, shabby, dented saucepans and so on should be cleaned out. They will probably never be used, and only fill valuable space. Wash all dusters, brushes and brooms and see that they have cords to hang them by, so they keep clean and fresh. The kitchen furniture is always the fresher for a coat of paint, and the tables most inviting for new oil-cloth covers.

If your kitchen gets overheated when the oven is going, and unbearable to work in, look about and see wherein the condition may be corrected. Sometimes a long narrow window may be cut rather high up above the sink or cupboard, which may do the trick. The small cost is nothing compared to the comfort of the increased ventilation given, and also the extra bit of light admitted. These windows are worked by sliding rods, so that one does not have to mount a chair to open and shut the window. If ground-glass panes are set in these windows no curtaining is needed. Sometimes there is a space above the stove where such a window works well—not reducing heat, but carrying off odors and smoke.

In the summer-kitchen only the dish-towels and cloths that are necessary should be in use at one time. These should be well washed and dried after each meal. Floor cloths should be dried outdoors, then folded away, and never allowed to dry in the kitchen. Oiled floor-cloths should be kept in a pail outdoors, for they are not only dangerous inside, but have an unpleasant odor.

The Effect of "Movie" Costumes on

NITA NALDI AND HOPE HAMPTON

THERE is no doubt in the minds of the makers of gowns that the favorites of the screen wield a very great influence on the styles and fashions of the day. Each star has her followers who will do their utmost to copy her in every detail—but the style of dress receives the first consideration.

America's Fashion Plate!—that is what hundreds of people call Gloria Swanson. For several years she has held this enviable position. Her impressive beauty, when used as a model for hats, gowns, cloaks, and other accessories, immediately awakens the imagination of her audiences and for them—to see is to copy. Miss Swanson loves the sheen of metal cloth and the gown shown here is a striking one, indeed. Metal cloth, according to Paris authorities, is to be even more in demand this fall and winter than it was last. In this gorgeous gown, Miss Swanson has chosen to break the long, straight lines of the past season by the use of row on row of narrow ruffles. The short graceful train which is part of the skirt itself is a style of our mother's day which will appeal to many for evening wear.

The tight blouse with a bouffant skirt comes into the picture as a setting for the tall, state-of-the-art dress, though it also lends height to the shorter figure. The adoption of such a style is a popularity for man-ner of languor, grace and dignity of body. The world contrasts and after the bob-"modern" age, it is likely to have with open arms this style (Miss Joy wears in her next dress with its high waistline

TWO POSES OF GLORIA SWANSON

Nita Naldi, the two stars shown in the middle picture, will welcome fashion hints here revealed. They could resist the entrancing evening gown which Miss Hampton has chosen? The tight basque and bouffant skirt come into their own in this creation of taffeta over satin, with its dainty rosebuds and clinging waist line. It is a style which is very becoming to the form and to be in style, one must be slim.

Beatrice Joy's appealing dress is enhanced by the simplicity of the gown. And here we have a different silhouette from the one pictured. Is the Empire style dress with its high waistline.

WORDS of WISE MEN

Who can govern his tongue is a strong man.
Take the world as it is, not as it ought to be.
Security is the first cause of misfortune.
By time all things are produced and judged.
In many, the tongue outruns the sense.
Happiness belongs to those who are content.
The soul is not where it lives but where it loves.
Real wealth consists not in having but in not wanting.
Rashness brings success to few, misfortune to many.
No estate can make him rich that has a poor heart.
How vain is learning unless intelligence goes with it!
Who does nothing for others, does nothing for himself.
Philosophy teaches a knowledge of the truth of things.
The art is not so much in making money as in keeping it.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Brave Little Nanny Meadow Mouse.
By Thornton W. Burgess.

Unselfish love thinks of another.
Forgetting self somehow or other.

JUST as long as she could stand it Nanny Meadow Mouse on the old scarecrow in Farmer Brown's cornfield watched Black Pussy watching the entrance to the old tin can at the foot of a fence post, waiting for Danny Meadow Mouse to come out. Nanny kept hoping that Black Pussy's patience would not hold out. But when Black Pussy was watching for a mouse she has a great deal of patience. She knew that Danny Meadow Mouse was inside that can, and she knew that sooner or later he would come out. Nanny knew that Black Pussy knew this.

"I've got to do something," said Nanny to herself at last. "I've got to do something. That awful cat looks as if she intends to stay there the rest of the day if necessary. Danny will think she has gone away and will come out. If he does that will be the end of him. I've got to do something. I've got to do something."

Having made up her mind to do something, Nanny wasted no more time. She ran down the old scarecrow to the ground. She ran along between the rows of corn until she reached the end of them where she could peep out and see that old cat and Black Pussy. It was only a few feet from the corn to that old cat. Black Pussy was crouched just at one side with her yellow eyes fixed on the little hole in that can, and the tip of her black tail was twitching with eagerness.

From where Nanny was she could look right in at the little round hole in the can. She could see Danny's face. He was close up to that hole peeping out. She knew that he couldn't see Black Pussy and had about made up his mind that Black Pussy had gone away.

Nanny wanted to speak a warning to Danny, but she didn't dare do that. Black Pussy would hear that squeak and might catch her before she could get back to the old scarecrow. There was just one thing to do. Yes, sir; there was just one thing to do. Nanny Meadow Mouse did it. Drawing a long breath, she darted out from that corn straight for that tin can. She made no noise. Black Pussy with her yellow eyes fixed on that hole didn't see Nanny until just as she

GOLDEN PEACOCK BLEACH CREME

This Simple Treatment Relieves Baby

MILLIONS of mothers every summer are worried almost frantic by the hot-weather suffering of their babies.

Perhaps your baby is fretful—loses sleep—looks sick and undernourished.

use Kora Konia every time baby's diapers are changed

Sprinkle Kora Konia liberally over the baby's tender skin. Rub it gently until you feel the famous Kora Konia waterproof film form smoothly under your fingers. In this way only can you be sure that Baby is protected against the agonies of chafing, scalding, prickly heat and rashes.

Chafing and scalding are impossible when the soft Kora Konia film is interposed between the diapers and skin. Body acids, rancid perspiration and other unsanitary matter simply cannot penetrate this healing, waterproof protection. Baby immediately becomes more quiet and comfortable.

Mother, too, can now get her rest at night—and a little relaxation during the day—happy because her baby is no longer losing the strength needed to resist disease.

Apply it faithfully—every time baby's diapers are changed

To sprinkle the cooling antiseptic powder is the work of a few seconds, and it is as easily removed.

Kora Konia comes in the convenient form of a powder. But never confuse it with ordinary "baby powders."

Kora Konia is made by THE MENNEN COMPANY, NEWARK, N. J., and costs but 35c.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH.

THE Reds and the Pirates are crowding the Giants. And challenge their lead with loud shouts of defiance. Poor Johnny McGraw sees his lead diminish. And cannot resort to a check-book finish.

Time was, when his team was beginning to wobble. The stars from the Braves and the Phils he would gobble. He'd go in the market and purchase the flag. And leave his competitors holding the bag.

Yes, John was a wizard in matters financial. Though lavish with dough, his rewards were substantial. Bread cast on the water he knew would return. In the form of a pennant he never could earn.

But times have now changed and the check-book has vanished. For after the middle of June it was banished. To purchase the pennant no checks can be written. But like all the others for flags he must fight.

QUITE SO.

Henry Ford was 60 years old last Monday. It has been a number of years since Henry celebrated his tin wedding.

And the old 1933 Ford is still going like sixty.

Property owners seem to think that the Wabash is not on the level with its grade-crossing proposition.

LOUDER.

The ousted lumber firms are going to file a motion for a rehearing. Get an amplifier, guys.

The lumbermen claim they organized to keep the short-measure lads from putting the scant in scantling.

Managers of apartment houses are going to co-operate against the smoke evil. A little co-operation against the rent evil wouldn't be amiss.

We have never heard that Cleopatra used a lipstick or powder puff, but they do say she was rather easy to look at.

TIS TO TITTER.

On the other hand, if Luis lands on Tom's jaw they'll have to send for the glazier.

NEXT!

FAVORITE STORIES

ALL HEAD AND NO BODY.

WAY back yonder before the Spanish War, when so-called yellow journalism began to flourish in the big cities, an enterprising person published a weekly in a small town upstate in New York. He caught the fever; he began to burn with a craving to emulate the sensational examples set by some of the metropolitan dailies. So he studied their spread-eagle headlines with a view to taking pattern from them.

He felt, however, that before introducing a thing so revolutionary in the columns and to the subscribers of his journal, he must have the proper excuse. Something worthy of being handled in the new way must happen. Soon his opportunity came. One evening, just as he was about to put his paper to press, word was brought in of a distressing fatality which had just occurred.

Having secured the details, he set to work to frame his headline. It ran as follows:

BROKE HIS NECK BY FALLING OFF A MULE

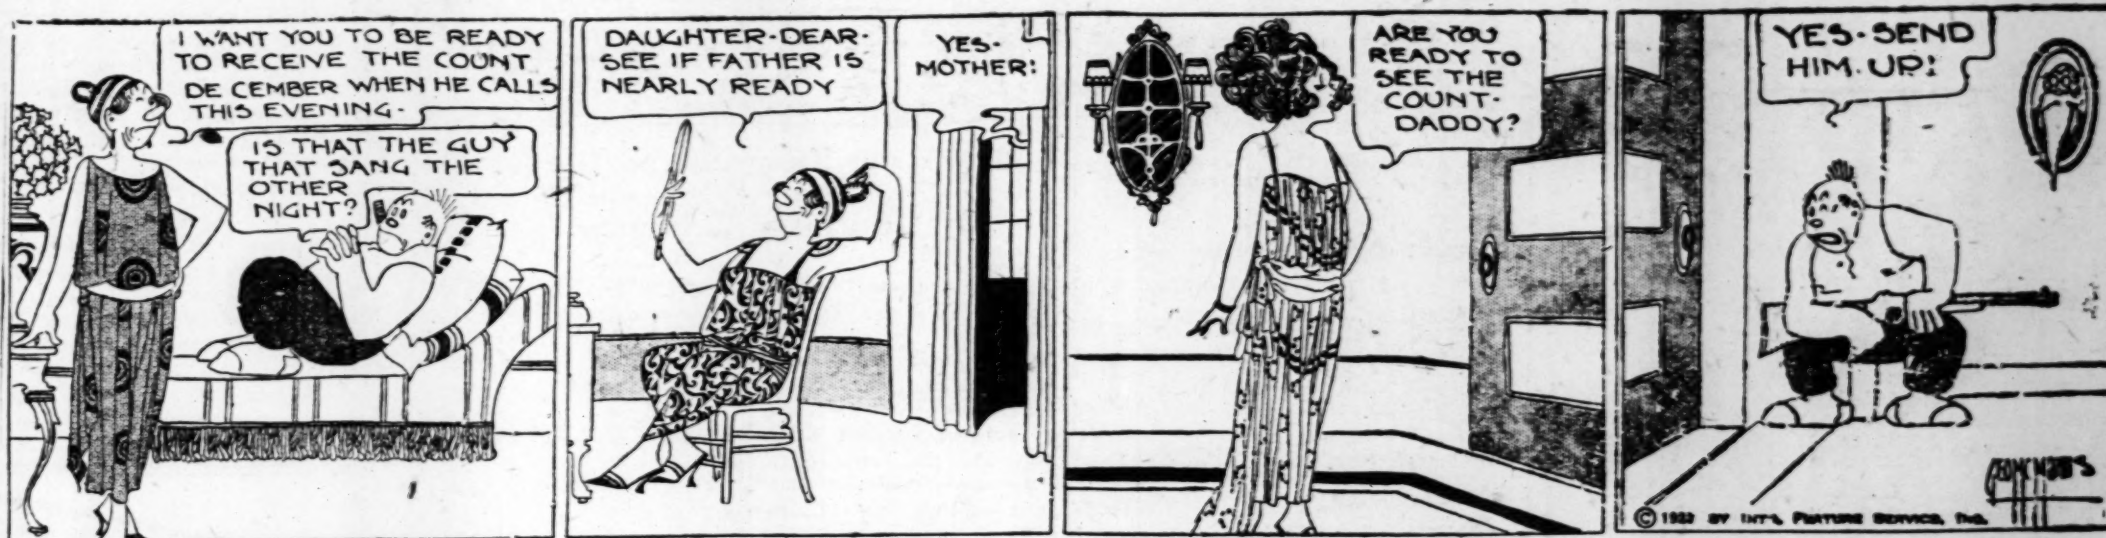

Pete Slocum, Aged 44, Estimable Citizen, Met Instant Death at 4 P. M. Tuesday When Favorite Steed Tripped and Threw Him Five Miles From Town.

VICTIM LEFT A WIFE AND THREE SMALL CHILDREN

Parties Coming Along Later Found Body Lying in Road—Report That Deceased Had Been Drinking During the Day—No Funeral Arrangements Made Yet.

So much for the headline. Beneath it, in body type, came the story. It was not long; indeed, it was exceedingly short. It read as follows: "We are informed that the above facts are correct." (Copyright, 1933.)
